External Gov.UK - Frequently asked questions: LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme

Top frequently asked questions for the LGBT Financial Recognition (FR) Scheme.

General LGBT FR Scheme Policy Questions

Who is eligible for the LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme?

The LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme is open to those who served under and suffered, during their service in HM Armed Forces, from the Ban, between 27th July 1967 and 11th January 2000.

What are the two types of payments offered under the LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme? And why have they been divided?

The Government recognises the broad range of ways our veterans were impacted by the Ban and has therefore separated the scheme into two payment types, which address different experiences. These payment types will be assessed concurrently, to avoid delaying payments, and veterans can apply for either or both payments.

The LGBT Dismissed or Discharged payment is only for veterans who were dismissed or administratively discharged, including officers who were ordered or instructed to resign or retire by their respective Service Board, based solely on the basis of their actual or perceived sexual orientation or gender identity, from 27 July 1967 to 11 January 2000 (under the Ban).

The LGBT Impact payment is open to all those impacted by the Ban, including those dismissed or discharged, and recognises other experiences had under the Ban (27 July 1967 to 11 January 2000). Assessments will be made by an Independent Panel, separate from and independent of the Ministry of Defence.

How long will the LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme be open for?

The LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme will be open from 13th December 2024 until 12th December 2026.

The LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme will be open for applications for 24 months from the date the LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme is launched. No applications will be accepted before the application window is opened or after it closes.

Will payments be taxed? / Will payments affect benefits?

The Ministry of Defence has worked with His Majesty's Treasury, His Majesty's Revenue & Customs and the Department of Work and Pensions to ensure that payments made by the LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme are exempt from income tax and do not impact on means tested benefits, to ensure the amount awarded is the amount our valued veterans receive.

How long will it take for applicants to receive payment?

It is difficult to provide an exact timeline for receiving financial recognition payments, as it depends on the payment(s) applied for and the ease of accessing the supporting evidence. However, applicants will be updated on each step of the process and this Government understands the need for timeliness in delivering this important recognition.

Is the LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme a compensation scheme and how do these payments compare to other schemes e.g. Infected Blood payments/Post Office etc?

No – the LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme is not a compensation scheme. It is important to recognise that the scheme is not seeking to compensate and therefore comparisons should not be made to compensation schemes such as the Infected Blood Inquiry. The aim of the Financial Recognition Scheme is to recognise the hurt caused to those who served under and suffered from the Ban on LGBT personnel serving in HM Armed Forces between 1967-2000.

The payments sit alongside the non-financial restorative measures being delivered by Defence and are an expression of the regret the Government feels for the inexcusable experiences, and the impact they had, on those affected under the Ban.

Will you be reaching out to service personnel affected, why not?

Due to the length of time that has passed since the Ban was lifted, and differences in record keeping at the time, Defence has no comprehensive way of identifying those impacted by the Ban. It is also important that applications are made through a standardised process to ensure fair and equal opportunity to all that apply. We will be reaching out to anyone who has registered an interest in the financial recognition payment as part of their application for non-financial restorative measures to encourage them to apply.

Will there be an appeals process for veterans whose applications are rejected?

Yes, the LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme appeals process will allow individuals to challenge or request a review of decisions if they believe they were incorrect according to certain criteria. It is important that the decisions made on the scheme are fair and consistent whilst reviewing applications on a case-by-case basis. Further information will be available when the Scheme goes live at LGBT Veterans Next Steps.

Will applications for LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme from terminally ill veterans be expedited?

Yes, applications from terminally ill veterans will be expedited within both payment processes of the Scheme.

Applicants will need to submit supporting evidence, and more information can be found in the Guide: 'How to Apply for a Financial Recognition Payment' which can be accessed at <http://www.gov.uk/lgbt-veterans>.

Why has it taken so long to develop the LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme?

The process for developing this type of scheme, particularly one that seeks to address historic wrongs is extremely complicated, involving multiple departments and numerous processes. Whilst we appreciate the veterans have waited far too long for this recognition, it is important that we deliver a well thought out scheme.

What is the objective of the LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme?

The LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme recognises the hurt caused for those who served under and suffered from the Ban on LGBT personnel serving in HM Armed Forces between 1967 and 2000, as recommended in the Etherton Review. The payments express the regret the Armed Forces feel for the inexcusable experiences and the impact it had on those affected under the Ban during Service. The payments are not compensation payments and do not seek to compensate for any pecuniary losses or attempt to place personnel in a financial position they could have been in, but for the Ban.

Application Process LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme

I have expressed interest through the non-financial restorative measures application form, will I have to reapply?
