Dear [REDACTED]

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT 2000: MINISTRY OF DEFENCE POLICE: INFORMATION REGARDING ELECTRONIC HARASSMENT.

We refer to your email dated 8th August 2024 to the Ministry of Defence Police (MDP), which was acknowledged on 12th August 2024.

We are treating your email as a request for information in accordance with the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA 2000).

In your email you requested the following information:

I am requesting information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 regarding reports of electronic harassment, particularly involving voice-to-skull (V2K) technology and Remote Neural Monitoring (RNM). I also seek details on police actions to address these incidents in the UK.

Queries:

Number of electronic harassment incidents reported in the UK over the past five years to various agencies, including trends.

Number of FOI requests to the Ministry of Defence on electronic harassment, including V2K and RNM How police investigate electronic harassment, including procedures, technologies, and training for officers.

Number of cases leading to investigations, arrests, or prosecutions.

Laws and police protocols on electronic harassment, and available support services for victims.

Ongoing or planned initiatives to prevent electronic harassment and any discussions on new legislation.

This information will help understand how electronic harassment is being addressed in the UK, particularly how victims are supported without referral to the mental health system and how offenders are held accountable.

A search for information has now been completed and I can confirm that the MDP does hold information in scope of your request.
