

Box 4: Questions on the scope of the investigations and SMS assessments:

Q1: Do you have any views on the scope of our investigations and descriptions of Apple's and Google's mobile ecosystem digital activities?

- No, there is nothing in particular that comes to mind.

Q2: Do you have any submissions or evidence related to the avenues of investigation set out in paragraph 70-72? Are there other issues we should take into account, and if so why?

- No, there are no additional submissions or evidence that we believe we should provide beyond the information submitted in the previous investigation.

Box 6: Questions on issues to explore and potential interventions related to Apple's and Google's mobile ecosystems:

Q4: Which potential interventions should the CMA focus on in mobile ecosystems? Please identify any concerns relating to Apple's or Google's mobile ecosystems, together with evidence of the scale and/or likelihood of the harms to your business; or to consumers.

- There is nothing in particular that stands out.

Q5: Are the potential interventions set out above likely to be effective, proportionate and/or have benefits for businesses and consumers?

- No, there is nothing in particular that stands out.

Q6: What key lessons should the CMA draw from interventions being considered, imposed and/or implemented in relation to mobile ecosystems in other jurisdictions?

- There is nothing in particular that comes to mind beyond what the authorities in each country are already investigating.
