Object.

8. 8 people. In a space traditionally designated to a 2 bed house.

I think what's more disturbing is that by law, they could have even more in there. They are well above the threshold of 6.51sqm Why not 10?

Bike shed included (although given the absolutely rife bike theft in the area I'm not sure anyone would actually leave their bike there).

This is not how you build a community.

This is not how you should treat people.

This is not how you shape the future of a place like Redfield.

This is how you make the most money from people with low paid jobs.

Turn it into something good, turn it into a space that people actually want to live in. Not just a vessel for sleep between various delivery jobs.
