Carer's Allowance is a benefit for people who provide regular and substantial care to a disabled person for at least 35 hours a week, and meet certain eligibility criteria.

The quickest and easiest way to claim Carer's Allowance is online. Check if you can get Carer's Allowance and make a claim at www.gov.uk/carers-allowance

If you live in Scotland you need to claim Carer Support Payment. For more information about Carer Support Payment, please visit www.mygov.scot/benefits

About this form

- only use this form to claim Carer's Allowance if you are getting State Pension.

If you are not getting State Pension, contact us to find out how to claim

- check if you can get Carer's Allowance by using the checklist in the notes booklet
- If you cannot get Carer's Allowance, go to www.gov.uk/browse/benefits to see what other help you might be able to get
- you, the carer, must fill in this form, not the person you provide care for
- please complete this form carefully. If you fill in this form using a pen, use black ink and CAPITAL LETTERS
- please answer all the questions and send us all the documents we ask for
- contact us if you cannot fill in this form or send us the documents we ask for, because this might delay your claim.
- if you have speech or hearing difficulties, you can contact us by textphone on 0800 731 5312. The textphone service does not receive messages from mobile phones.

Normally, you can expect us to get back to you within 6 weeks. This may change at busy times of the year.

Remember

If someone else also cares for the same person as you, only one of you can claim a carer's benefit. This could be Carer's Allowance, Carer Support Payment or, for those in receipt of Universal Credit, an extra amount for caring for someone.

If you both meet the criteria, you must try to decide between you who will claim. If you cannot decide on who this should be, the Department for Work and Pensions will make the decision.
