Please note we currently don't have this specific product photographed. However, it's the same design as all Bellus bin stores, and you can see more pictures of a double bin store here. This four-box unit is the same design, but rather than wheelie bin compartments, it comes with four additional shelves for storing four boxes.

Why Get a Recycling Bin Cover?

Many councils these days make homeowners use recycling boxes. This is great for the environment but not so great for the kerb appeal of your property. A recycling box cover lets you hide your boxes away, and yet you'll still have easy access to them. Plus, it'll keep your recycling boxes safe, out of the weather, away from animals and even vandals. There are tons of benefits to putting your recycling boxes in an attractive cover!

How Big?!

This is one of the biggest models of recycling box covers, making it an excellent choice for large or shared households. You will need to make sure that this cover will fit your garden, though! Designed to hold four standard-sized recycling boxes, this model has two front opening doors, as well as two top opening lids (giving you instant access to the two top boxes). Before placing your order, you'll need to check that the box fits the space you have and has enough room to open all those doors and lids. The exact measurements here are:

- External Dimensions: 1200 x 1225 x 804mm (H/W/D)
- Internal Dimensions: 1090 x 540-540 (Each Compartment) x 750mm (H/W/D)

Quality and Materials

If you're investing in this, you're only going to want to buy the best, which is exactly what you're getting. This model is made from high-quality, pressure-treated redwood, meaning that it's hard-wearing, durable, and long-lasting too. It's made in the UK (in the Ribble Valley, Lancashire), so you're buying British. Plus, all timber comes from certified renewable resources, so there are no worries about the environment. In terms of maintenance, all you'll need to do is apply a coat of stain once a year to keep your investment looking great.

Ironmongery

The four recycle box store has two ironmongery options: japanned black or galvanised.

Japanned black ironmongery boasts an epoxy-coated finish, providing durability and a sophisticated appearance. While durable, minor surface rust may occur but does not affect the product's overall strength or functionality.

Our galvanised option is rust-proof for maximum durability in rust-prone environments, ensuring your product stays in top condition for longer.

Select japanned black for a traditional, budget-conscious choice or galvanised for enhanced durability in harsh environments.

And the Rest...

Wait, we're not done yet! The shelves themselves are slatted so that liquids that may have been left in cans or bottles can drain into the ground. And fully opening doors and lids make access easy anytime. Those doors come with two bolts per door (though if you prefer a hasp to fit a padlock, just let us know, and we'll supply one for a small additional cost). Finally, this is a self-standing cover to put it anywhere you please or anchor it to the ground for added stability. A galvanised bar that spans beneath the doors and is bolted to the side panels, reinforcing the unit's square shape, is also included.

In Conclusion

Recycling bins are a necessary part of modern life, but who wants to look at them? A recycling bin cover is an excellent solution for keeping your garden neat and tidy while giving convenient access to your recycling boxes. Hide those boxes away for good!

Mr Kettering (verified owner) – January 8, 2025

Good responses to my initial inquiries gave me the confidence to order from Wheelie Bin Storage Direct. They were able to guide me on producing a suitable base as the shingle driveway was not going to be sufficiently stable. The product arrived in excellent condition and within the delivery timescale. I had planned on painting to match the planters but the natural characteristics of the timber are worth preserving so will clear-coat this instead. Thanks for all your help and patience!

Mary & Keith, North Yorks (verified owner) – August 8, 2023

The timber is of excellent quality and perfectly complements our Indian stone patio. I have received positive feedback from neighbours who are keen to find a solution for their food sacks and glass recycling. One additional benefit that I didn't consider is that it is providing a discreet location for parcel couriers to shelter our boxes.

Solid solution for housing council refuse and recycle caddies. Intuitive assembly, customer happy with the results

David Shannon (verified owner) – January 16, 2022

Great product. Instructions are a bit basic but can follow ok. Don't move once built as can get out of alignment.

Really good box storage unit not too difficult to construct and very sturdy.
