Afternoon site visit – Mayfield Park

Following the RFCC meeting, we invite Members and officers to join a visit to Mayfield Park, the first new city-centre park to be created in Manchester for over 100 years and the centrepiece of a 24-acre development of residential, commercial and retail buildings.

While not primarily a flood risk project, it has transformed a previously derelict area of the city into a biodiverse expanse of green and blue infrastructure which delivers multiple benefits and the River Medlock, which was previously heavily culverted in the area, has been daylighted.

The design accommodates a one in 100-year+ climate change flood scenario. Nature-based systems to accommodate flooding have been favoured (e.g. rain gardens) and the wildscape areas allow for flooding, with the riverbed planted to ensure an instant impact.

In areas designed to accommodate flood water and high river flows, nature-based systems intercept and slow water discharge and encourage evapotranspiration. For example, rain gardens feature moisture-tolerant planting that absorbs excess surface runoff, instead of allowing rain to drain into the river and contribute to flood risks downstream.

After the 1pm buffet lunch following the RFCC meeting, visit attendees will be asked to wait in the RFCC meeting room and at 2pm will make their way over to St Peter's Square to get the Metrolink to Piccadilly. Once at Piccadilly the group will make its way to Mayfield Park, an approximate 5 minute walk.

The visit will be for approximately 1 hour in duration.
