Section 38 – Health and Safety

The information requested relating to the name of the airlines and the hotels where staff resided, for some of the travel arrangements, engages section 38(1)(b) of the FOIA as its release would be likely to endanger the safety of individuals. The withheld information relates to repeated travel arrangements, rather than one-off or non-regularised trips.

Section 38(1)(b) is a qualified exemption. This means that once we have decided that the exemption is engaged, Homes England must carry out a public interest test to assess whether or not it is in the wider public interest for the information to be disclosed.

Arguments in favour of disclosure:

- Homes England is compliant with the government agenda of transparency and recognises the benefit of publishing the information, particularly when it concerns how Homes England undertakes its work and spends public money.

Arguments in favour of non-disclosure

- Homes England believes that it should not disclose details of the airlines and hotels used for repeated travel arrangements as this would be likely to endanger the safety of individuals who may use the same airlines or hotels for travel in the future.
- Disclosure to the wider public of this information would reveal the travel arrangements of Homes England staff which could be used to locate them in the future. This would be likely to cause a direct threat to the safety of Homes England Staff.
- Homes England considers that the public interest in this request lies with the allocation and spending of public funds, not the specific travel arrangements of Homes England staff. Homes England considers it has met its transparency obligations in this area by the issuing of this response and the information it proactively publishes concerning spend; and
- Homes England has been unable to identify a wider public interest in disclosing the information requested.

Homes England believes that to disclose this information to the wider public would undermine the measures designed to protect both public health and safety and the safety of Homes England staff.

Therefore, after careful consideration we have concluded that at this time, the balance of the public interest favours the non-disclosure.
