

Department
for Work &
Pensions

Introduction to Universal Credit

Easy
Read

Contents

1

Introduction

Page 3

2

Benefits that Universal Credit has replaced

Page 5

3

Other benefits and Universal Credit

Page 7

4

Contact us

Page 10

1

Introduction

Department
for Work &
Pensions

Universal Credit is a benefit from the Department for Work and Pensions.

It helps pay your daily living costs.

UC Universal Credit

You may be able to get Universal Credit if:

- You cannot work
- You are out of work
- You are in work and have low earnings.

Most new benefit claims will be for Universal Credit.

Where you live

To get Universal Credit, you have to live in England, Northern Ireland, Scotland or Wales.

For more information about Universal Credit and where you live, go to www.gov.uk/universal-credit

2

Benefits that Universal Credit has replaced

If you are still receiving the following benefits you will be told when to move to Universal Credit in the future:

- Housing Benefit
- Income Support

- Income-based Jobseeker's Allowance
- Income-related Employment and Support Allowance.

When it is time to move to Universal Credit, we will contact you.

If your circumstances change before we contact you, let us know as soon as possible.

To find contact details for benefits, go to www.gov.uk/contact-jobcentre-plus/existing-benefit-claims

3

Other benefits and Universal Credit

Some benefits will not change how much Universal Credit you get.

jobcentreplus

Department for
Work and Pensions

These include:

- Personal Independence Payment
- Disability Living Allowance
- Child Benefit and some others.

There are benefits which can change how much Universal Credit you get.

Department for
Work and Pensions

These include:

- New Style Employment and Support Allowance
- New Style Jobseeker's Allowance

Department
for Work &
Pensions

- Bereavement Allowance
- Maternity Allowance
- Industrial Injuries Benefit.

These benefit examples are a guide only.

We will tell you exactly how your other benefits affect Universal Credit when we contact you.

If you get severe disability premium and are moving to Universal Credit

If you get severe disability premium you may be able to get transitional protection when moving to Universal Credit.

Explaining Transitional protection

Transitional protection is an extra payment to help you when you move to Universal Credit.

Most people will get this payment straight away, but some may need to claim it.

For more information about transitional protection, go to www.gov.uk/guidance/transitional-protection-if-you-receive-a-migration-notice-letter

4

Contact us

Most people contact Universal Credit using our online service.

You may have a disability that means you cannot use a computer.

If you need help and cannot access our online service, please contact the Universal Credit helpline.

This helpline is open Monday to Friday,
8am to 6pm.

Telephone: 0800 328 5644
Textphone: 0800 328 1344

Welsh Language Telephone:
0800 328 1744

If you are deaf and use British Sign Language you may be able to use the video relay service.

If you cannot hear or speak on the phone, use Relay UK:

18001 then 0800 328 5644

For more information about who to contact, go to www.gov.uk/universal-credit/contact-universal-credit

For more information about Universal Credit, go to www.gov.uk/universal-credit