FULL REASONS

DECISION

1. The Tribunal registered the rent at £1,440.00 per calendar month with effect from 1 August 2025 being the date of the Tribunal decision.

REASONS

Background

2. The landlord sent an RR1 application for rent registration of a fair rent to the Rent Officer. The previous rent was determined by the Rent Officer on 21 September 2022 at £1,251.00 per calendar month.
3. On 11 March 2025, the Rent Officer registered a fair rent of £1,296.00 per calendar month effective from 11 March 2025.
4. In a letter dated 25 June 2025, the tenant objected to the Valuation Officer's registration.
5. By an email, the Valuation Office referred the matter to the Tribunal referring the registered rent for determination.
6. On 30 May 2025, the Tribunal issued directions to the parties requiring them to produce any evidence on which they wish to rely in support of their respective cases including by use of a reply form. The matter was set down for determination on the papers unless either party requested a hearing which neither did. The landlord was directed to return the reply form with any documents upon which it wished to rely by 13 June 2025. The tenant was directed to do likewise by 27 June 2025 with the landlord given further opportunity to respond by 4 July 2025.
7. The tenant took the opportunity to make submissions, but no correspondence was received from the landlord.
8. In consideration of the fair rental value of the subject property, the Tribunal has taken into consideration all documentation before it, including letters and Reply forms returned by the parties.
9. In a letter dated 25TH June 2025 the tenant maintains that the assessment of the property by the Valuation Officer is simply too much and will equate to 81% of her income as rent.

10. In the tenant's Reply form, the tenant confirms that they require neither a hearing nor an inspection. They confirm that the property comprises a lounge/kitchen and two bedrooms with a bathroom, that the property is centrally heated but has no double glazing, and that there is no garage or parking space.
11. It is noted that the tenant is responsible for repair and maintenance as detailed within Section 11 of the Landlord & Tenant Act 1985.
12. On 1 August 2025, on the basis of paper submissions and without a hearing, the Tribunal determined the fair rent of the above property at £1,440.00 per calendar month.

The Law

13. When determining a fair rent the Tribunal in accordance with the Rent Act 1977 Section 70, had regard to all the circumstances (other than personal circumstances) including the age, location and state of repair of the property. Section 70 is set out in the Appendix below.
14. In Spathholme Limited vs Chairman of the Greater Manchester, etc. Tribunal (1995) 24HLR 107 and Curtis vs London Rent Assessment Tribunal (1999) QB92 the Court of Appeal emphasised that ordinarily a fair rent is the market rent for the property discounted for "scarcity" (i.e. that element of any of the market rent that is attributable to there being a significant shortage of similar properties in the wider locality available for letting on similar terms – other than as to rent – to that of the regulated tenancy) and that for the purpose of determining market rent, assured tenancy (market) rents are usually appropriate comparables (these rents may have to be adjusted where necessary to reflect any relevant differences between those comparables and the subject property).

The Property

15. From Google Maps and information included on the rent register as well as information provided by the parties, the Tribunal were able to determine the following:

The property comprises a lounge/kitchen, two bedrooms and a bathroom/WC without garden or parking space.

The property is in a busy and popular location within central London well placed for transport and shopping facilities.

Valuation

16. From Spathholme Limited vs Chairman of the Greater Manchester etc. Tribunal, other registered rents are not relevant as a starting point because they are not market rents.
17. The Tribunal must first determine the market rent for the property of this size, in this location and in its current condition. It must also disregard the personal circumstances of either party. The Tribunal notes that the Rent Officer adopted a starting point of £1,800.00 per calendar month. Using its own general knowledge of the Greater London property market, the Tribunal disagrees with the Rent Officer and considers that the market rent for the property of this size and in this location, in good condition, with the usual white goods, carpets and decorated to a good condition would be £2,000.00 per calendar month. However, all white goods, carpets and curtains are presumed to be the property of the tenant. In addition, a tenant of a Rent Act property has more onerous repairing obligations than those under an assured shorthold tenancy.
18. Lastly the Tribunal is mindful of the fact that there are differences in the condition of the subject property and property that is available to let on the market.
19. The Tribunal therefore made the following deductions from the market rent of £2,000.00 per calendar month to reflect those differences:

Market rent (per month)	£2,000.00

Less deductions for:

- Tenant's decorative and repairing liability
- No white goods
- No floor coverings

Less 10% =	£ 200.00
------------	-----------------

Adjusted rent	£1,800.00

20. The Tribunal found that there was substantial scarcity in the locality of Greater London, having taken judicial notice of long housing association and local authority waiting lists in Greater London. It therefore made a deduction in respect of scarcity of 20% (£360.00 per calendar) from the adjusted market rent to reflect this element. This left a final rental figure of £1,440.00 per calendar month.

21. The Tribunal is then required to apply the Rent Act (Maximum Fair Rent) Order 1999. The calculation was included on the decision sheet and produced a maximum fair rent of £1,512.50 per calendar month.
22. The Tribunal must register the lower of the adjusted market rent or maximum fair rent as the fair rent for the property. In this instance the maximum fair rent produces a higher figure, and the Tribunal, therefore, registered the rent at £1,440.00 per calendar month with effect from 1 August 2025 being the date of the Tribunal decision.

ANNEX – RIGHTS OF APPEAL

The Tribunal is required to set out rights of appeal against its Decision by virtue of the Rule 36(2)(c) of the Tribunal Procedure (First-tier Tribunal) (Property Chamber) Rules 2013 and these are set out below:

If a party wishes to appeal against this decision to the Upper Tribunal (Lands Chamber), then a written application for permission must be made to the First-tier Tribunal at the regional office which has been dealing with the case.

The application for permission to appeal must arrive at the regional office within 28 days after the Tribunal sends written reasons for the Decision to the person making the application.

If the application is not made within the 28 day time limit, such application must include a request for an extension of time and the reason for not complying with the 28 day time limit; the Tribunal will then look at such reason(s) and decide whether to allow the application for permission to appeal to proceed, despite not being within the time limit.

The application for permission to appeal must identify the decision of the Tribunal to which it relates (i.e. give the date, the property, and the case number), state the grounds of appeal and state the result the party making the application is seeking.
