Thank you for your email in which you requested the following information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA):

- 1. I would appreciate it if you could clarify the circumstances, if any, under which a completed investigation, particularly one resulting in prosecutions, would not be made publicly available.
- 2. Additionally, could you please provide the percentage of completed and successful cases that are not reported publicly, specifically within the organisations people can ask for information, which would include the MOD?

Response

Please see below our response to your questions in the order asked.

Question 1

We do not hold information about the circumstances under which completed investigations resulting in prosecutions would not be made publicly available.

Question 2

We interpret "completed and successful cases" as cases where we have made a positive charging decision following an investigation that has proceeded to prosecution. Using this definition, we can confirm that we report on all our prosecutions in the public domain.
