DECISION

Summary of the Decision

- 1. The Applicant is granted dispensation under Section 20ZA of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1985 from the consultation requirements imposed on the landlord by Section 20 of the 1985 Act in relation to balcony refurbishment works at 95A-106B Grantley Gardens, Plymouth, Devon PL3 5AJ conditional upon the Applicant providing a copy of this decision to each and every leaseholder.
- 2. The Tribunal's decision to grant dispensation is limited to the works specified in the Application, that being the refurbishment of the six balcony areas as specified within the surveyors report at Appendix 1 to the application.
- 3. The Tribunal has made no determination on whether the costs of the works are reasonable or payable.

Background

4. The Applicant seeks dispensation under Section 20ZA of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1985 from the consultation requirements imposed on the landlord by Section 20 of the 1985 Act. The application was received on 15 August 2025.
5. The property is described as:

The property comprises three separate residential blocks, each containing eight flats, totalling 24 units. All flats are single-level and consist of two bedrooms, one bathroom, and an open-plan kitchen and lounge area. Six of the flats benefit from a private balcony with patio door access. Each block has four levels: ground floor, first floor, second floor, and third floor. The blocks are understood to have been constructed in 2008.

6. The Applicant explains that:

We are seeking dispensation from the Section 20 consultation process for urgent balcony refurbishment works at 95A–106B Grantley Gardens, Plymouth, PL3 5AJ. Following reports of severe water ingress into flats below, a surveyor was appointed to investigate. Inspections revealed that the balcony structures contain defective materials, requiring remedial works to prevent further damage and deterioration to the building fabric. Scope of Works: The project will refurbish six balcony areas across the blocks at Grantley Gardens. The works, as specified by our appointed surveyor, can be found on attached separate document - Appendix 1.

A Section 20 Consultation, including the Notice of Intention and Statement of Estimates, has already been carried out. However, the Statement of Estimates is now invalid, as two of the three contractors who submitted tender bids have withdrawn their bids. The remaining tender is unaffordable for the leaseholders. As a result, the tender will need to be reissued to contractors, with a 14-day return period. Once the new tenders are received, the Statement of Estimates will need to be reissued, triggering a further 28-day consultation period, including postage. Following this process, if the leaseholders do not select the lowest tender, Appendix 7 will be issued.

7. The Tribunal gave Directions on 20 August 2025 listing the steps to be taken by the parties in preparation for the determination of the dispute, if any.
8. The Directions stated that Tribunal would determine the application on the papers received unless a party objected in writing to the Tribunal within 7 days of the date of receipt of the Directions. No party has objected to the application being determined on the papers.
9. The only issue for the Tribunal is whether or not it is reasonable to dispense with the statutory consultation requirements. This application is not about the proposed costs of the works, and whether they are recoverable from the leaseholders as service charges or the possible application or effect of the Building Safety Act 2022. The leaseholders have the right to make a separate application to the Tribunal under section 27A of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1985 to determine the reasonableness of the costs, and the contribution payable through the service charges.

The Law

10. Section 20 of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1985 (“the Act”) and the related Regulations provide that where the lessor undertakes qualifying works with a cost of more than £250 per lease the relevant contribution of each lessee (jointly where more than one under any given lease) will be limited to that sum unless the required consultations have been undertaken or the requirement has been dispensed with by the Tribunal. An application may be made retrospectively.
11. The relevant section of the Act reads as follows:

S.20 ZA Consultation requirements:

Where an application is made to a Leasehold Valuation Tribunal for a determination to dispense with all or any of the consultation requirements in relation to any qualifying works or qualifying long-term agreement, the Tribunal may make the determination if satisfied that it is reasonable to dispense with the requirements.

12. The appropriate approach to be taken by the Tribunal in the exercise of its discretion was considered by the Supreme Court in the case of Daejan Investment Limited v Benson et al [2013] UKSC 14.
13. The leading judgment of Lord Neuberger explained that a Tribunal should focus on the question of whether the lessee will be or had been prejudiced in either paying where that was not appropriate or in paying more than appropriate because the failure of the lessor to comply with the regulations. The requirements were held to give practical effect to those two objectives and were a means to an end, not an end in themselves.
14. The factual burden of demonstrating prejudice falls on the lessee. The lessee must identify what would have been said if able to engage in a consultation process. If the lessee advances a credible case for having been prejudiced, the lessor must rebut it. The Tribunal should be sympathetic to the lessee(s).
15. Where the extent, quality and cost of the works were in no way affected by the lessor's failure to comply, Lord Neuberger said as follows:

I find it hard to see why the dispensation should not be granted (at least in the absence of some very good reason): in such a case the tenants would be in precisely the position that the legislation intended them to be- i.e. as if the requirements had been complied with.
16. The main, indeed normally, the sole question, as described by Lord Neuberger, for the Tribunal to determine is therefore whether, or not, the lessee will be or has been caused relevant prejudice by a failure of the Applicant to undertake the consultation prior to the major works and so whether dispensation in respect of that should be granted.
17. The question is one of the reasonableness of dispensing with the process of consultation provided for in the Act, not one of the reasonableness of the charges of works arising or which have arisen.
18. If dispensation is granted, that may be on terms.
19. There have been subsequent Decisions of the higher Courts and Tribunals of assistance in the application of the Decision in Daejan but none are relied upon or therefore require specific mention in this Decision.

Consideration

20. The Directions attached a reply form for the Respondents to complete to confirm whether they agreed with the application or not and if opposed, to provide a statement setting out why they oppose.
21. Respondents for Flats 95A, 95B, 96A, 96B, 97B, 98A, 98B, 99A, 100A, 100B, 102A, 102B, 103A and 105A Grantley Gardens, Plymouth, Devon

PL3 5AJ have all returned the reply form, confirming their agreement to the application. Replies were not received from the remaining flats.

22. Having considered the application and prior to undertaking this determination, I am satisfied that a determination on the papers remains appropriate, given that the application remains unchallenged.
23. The reason why dispensation from consultation requirements is said to be required is due to the significant water damage to the flats below the balconies, in some instances causing those flats to become uninhabitable. The Applicant also wishes to start work quickly to reduce the risk of further damage arising to the flats. Given the nature of the works and the fact that it related to the safety and welfare of the building and its occupants, I am satisfied that the qualifying works are of an urgent nature.
24. There has been no objection to the dispensation of the consultation requirements from any of the Lessees.
25. None of the Lessees have therefore asserted that any prejudice has been caused to them. The Tribunal finds that nothing different would be done or achieved in the event of a full consultation with the Lessees, except for the potential delay and potential problems.
26. The Tribunal finds that the Respondents have not suffered any prejudice by the failure of the Applicant to follow the full consultation process.
27. The Tribunal consequently finds that it is reasonable to dispense with all of the formal consultation requirements in respect of the major works to the building as described in this Decision.
28. This Decision is confined to determination of the issue of dispensation from the consultation requirements in respect of the qualifying works for works specified in the Application, that being the refurbishment of the six balcony areas as specified within the surveyors report at Appendix 1 to the application and as outlined at paragraph 4. The Tribunal has made no determination on whether the costs are payable or reasonable. If a Lessee wishes to challenge the payability or reasonableness of those costs, then a separate application under section 27A of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1985 would have to be made.
29. In reaching my decision I have taken account of the fact that no party has objected to the application. The leaseholders have had opportunity to raise any objection and they have not done so. I do however Direct that the dispensation is conditional upon the Applicant or their agent sending a copy of this decision to all the leaseholders so that they are aware of the same.
