A significant part of the work of the Welfare Fund is concerned with taking legal action on behalf of seafarers in the pursuance of claims against employers and others including injury, unpaid wages, unfair dismissal and other cases. Where necessary ITF will also advance monies to seafarers pending the outcome and resolution of any action to be taken on their behalf. ITF will also defend itself against certain ship owners and others who would seek to prevent it pursuing its objectives of helping seafarers. At any time ITF has many ongoing legal cases and often these will have been active for several years. Wherever possible ITF will seek to recover legal and other costs from ship owners.

Notes to the Financial Statements for the year ended 31 December 202422. Pension - Group and parent organisation

ITF operates a defined benefits pension scheme, the ITF Retirement Benefits Scheme. The pension scheme's funds are independent of ITF finances and are administered by trustees. Benefits under the scheme are based on employees' final remuneration and length of service. The pension cost is assessed in accordance with the advice of an independent qualified actuary on the basis of an annual valuation and charged to the Statement of Income and Retained Earnings. The FRS 102 figures are based on the results of the full actuarial Statutory Funding Valuation of the scheme as at 1 January 2023 and updated to 31 December 2024 using assumptions which are consistent with the requirements of FRS 102. The FRS 102 asset at 31 December 2024 (2023 deficit, recognised) has not been recognised because there was no plan at 31 December 2024 to reduce future employer contributions or seek refunds from the scheme. The defined benefit costs and the pension scheme asset or liability have been apportioned between the General Fund and Welfare Fund on the basis of the estimated proportion of pension costs applicable to each fund to reflect the requirements of FRS 102 separately in each fund. ITF expects to contribute approximately £4,400,000 to its defined benefit pension scheme in 2025.

24. Capital commitment

At 31 December 2024 ITF group and ITF parent had no capital commitments (2023 £13,000).

25. Contingent liability

The 2011 ITF group and ITF parent Statement of Financial Position contained a liability of £4,094,000 for crew back pay and compensation awaiting distribution, plus an associated liability of £1,900,000 provision for interest on back pay. The source of the funds was unclaimed back pay recovered on behalf of seafarers and many of the balances dated back decades. Following a technical review of the balances, the ITF believed that it was holding the balances as an agent on behalf of the seafarers and that the liability for the back pay and corresponding cash balances should not appear in the ITF group or ITF parent Statement of Financial Position. In 2012, ITF donated the funds to The ITF Seafarers Trust, removed these liabilities from the Statement of Financial Position and included a contingent liability note. However, ITF acknowledges an ongoing contingent liability to pay out a back pay claim plus interest to the date of payment to any seafarer or their dependent who can establish a reasonable case to show that funds had been received on their behalf by ITF.

Notes to the Financial Statements for the year ended 31 December 202426. Related party transactions

ITF receives affiliation fee income from affiliated unions. The ITF Executive Board members are elected at Congress, are made up of representatives from affiliated unions, and are unpaid except for expenses. Some affiliated unions are reimbursed for expenditure, including inspectorate expenditure. Affiliated unions are not considered to be related parties.

Trade unions are governed by the Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 1992 Amended. Under that act the accounts of trade unions are required to give a true and fair view, and are therefore, prepared under FRS 102. However, because a trade union is not a company, the regulations that form the basis of disclosures under FRS 102 have been adapted as considered necessary to ensure the accounts give a true and fair view to the members of the trade union.

The ITF is a public benefit entity.

The following principal accounting policies have been applied:

(a) Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of the organisation, and the entities where ITF is a controlling member of the entity or where ITF has financial and operational control of the entity. Control is achieved where the group has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of an entity so as to obtain benefits from its activities. The results of subsidiaries acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statements of income and retained earnings from the effective date of acquisition and up to the effective date of disposal, as appropriate using accounting policies consistent with those of the parent. All intra-group transactions, balances, income and expenses are eliminated in full on consolidation.

(b) Going concern

The financial statements are drawn up on a going concern basis, which assumes ITF will continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. Due consideration has been given to the working capital and cash flow requirements of ITF for at least 12 months from the date of signature of the accounts. The ITF's reserves policy is to maintain sufficient funds in the Welfare Fund that, should there be a significant downturn in the finances of the ITF, would cover 4 years operational expenditure for the Dockers, Fisheries, Inland Navigation, Inspectorate, Seafarers and Special Seafarers Department sections.

(c) Foreign currency

Foreign currency transactions are translated into Sterling at the rates ruling when they occur. Foreign currency assets and liabilities are translated into Sterling at the rates of exchange at the statement of financial position date, and any differences are shown in the statement of income and retained earnings.

(d) Key accounting estimates and judgements

In preparing these financial statements to conform to UK Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, and by applying the ITF's accounting policies, management are required to use judgements in applying estimates and assumptions which affect the reported amounts. The items in the financial statements where these judgements and estimates have been made include:

- Welfare contributions and crew membership fees income, where management accrues 85% of unallocated receipts because this is its best estimate based on knowledge and past behaviour.
- Revenue from ITF special agreements is recognised in full on receipt of the monies and when the income has been allocated against an agreement, which is when ITF's obligations under the ITF special agreement is fulfilled. This is on the basis that the certificate is issued on receipt and allocation of the income – the ITF has no further obligation to inspect the vessel until the agreement is due for renewal. A provision for an estimated 3 months of refunds in relation to welfare contributions is included in these financial statements at the Statement of Financial Position date. Refund requests are normally received within 2 months of the termination date and ITF aims to process these within 14 days of receipt.
- ITF rebate to the IBF Seafarers' Support Fund, where management makes a best estimate of the liability based on the information available at the end of the financial year. Records are constantly updated so that when claims are received these might result in an under or over-accrual.
- Bad debt, where management assesses what it considers is not recoverable and makes a provision for this.
- Defined benefits contributory pension scheme, where management engage with an actuary, and valuations of the pension scheme are based on estimates provided by the actuary. In applying this to the funds, then it is judgement of management that 20% of the defined benefits pension asset or liability is attributable to the General Fund and the remainder to the Welfare Fund. For more details see note 22 to the financial statements.

(e) Affiliation fees income

Affiliation fees are accounted for on a receivable basis. The ITF's constitution allows affiliates in certain circumstances to request that their annual fee be calculated at concessionary rates of up to a 98% reduction in the fee, and this procedure has been applied during 2024. The total amount of affiliation fees receivable shown in the statement of income and retained earnings does not therefore represent the total amount due on declared membership calculated at the standard affiliation fee rate.

(f) Welfare contributions and crew membership fees income

On signing an ITF agreement with an ITF affiliate, a shipowner undertakes to make a yearly welfare contribution per head in advance; if appropriate, arranges for the crew to become members of the Special Seafarers' Department; and remits the appropriate membership fees on their behalf. Such contributions and fees are voluntary and are paid directly by the ship owners or collected by affiliated unions. In view of the uncertainty associated with the receipt of the income, it is recognised when received and has been matched to an ITF special agreement. It is ITF's judgement that ITF's obligations under the agreement have been fulfilled upon receipt (see note (1)(d) above). If an agreement is terminated before its expiry date then entitlement to a partial refund exists providing certain criteria are met. A provision for an estimated 3 months of refunds paid after the year-end for in-year agreements is therefore included at the Statement of Financial Position date, and is not considered to be material to the financial statements.

(g) Interest and dividends income

Interest on fixed interest investments is accrued on a receivable basis. Dividends on equities are recognised when receivable.

(h) Other income

Other income is recognised on a receivable basis.

(i) Administration charge

A proportion of the General Fund's employment and other administration costs have been charged to the Seafarers' International Assistance, Welfare and Protection Fund and the ITF Seafarers' Trust, over and above directly incurred expenditure, to reflect the activity carried out on their behalf by employees paid from the General Fund.

(j) Donations to ITF Seafarers' Trust under Gift aid

When donated to a third party, gift aid is treated as a donation cost.

(k) Current and deferred taxation

For United Kingdom taxation purposes, the ITF is treated as an unincorporated association and assessed for corporation tax on both its investment income and any net gains on the disposal of investments. The ITF mitigates its taxable income, in part or in full, by way of a donation under gift aid to the ITF Seafarers' Trust, a registered charity in England and Wales, number 281936. Deferred tax is recognised in respect of all material timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the Statement of Financial Position date. Timing differences are differences between the ITF's taxable profit and its results as stated in the financial statements, that arise from inclusion of gains and losses in tax assessments in periods different from those in which they are recognised in the financial statements.

(l) Pension scheme

The ITF operates a defined benefits contributory pension scheme that is open to all UK based employees of the ITF. The pension scheme is independent of the ITF and is administered by trustees. Pension scheme costs, assets and liabilities are reflected in these financial statements in accordance with FRS 102. As noted in (1)(d) above, pension scheme assets and liabilities are apportioned 20% to the General Fund and the remainder to the Welfare Fund. For more details see note 22 to the financial statements.

(m) Tangible fixed assets and depreciation

Tangible fixed assets, including land and buildings, are included in the financial statements at cost. Additions over £10,000 are capitalised. Tangible fixed assets are fully depreciated on a straight-line basis, where buildings are depreciated over 50 years, furniture and equipment over 3 to 10 years, computer systems over 3 years and motor vehicles over 3 years.

(n) Investments

Quoted investments, being amounts held in portfolios with investment managers, are stated at fair value. Unrealised and realised investment gains and losses are shown in the statement of income and retained earnings. At 31 December 2024, cash held by investment managers, which is held as part of the Union's investment portfolios, is included within fixed asset investments as it is now held solely for use in the longer term (being a period of at least 12 months) in the Union's investment activities.

Investments in subsidiaries are accounted for at cost less impairment in the individual financial statements.

(o) Financial instruments

The ITF only has financial assets and financial liabilities that qualify as basic financial instruments. Basic financial instruments are initially recognised at transaction value and subsequently measured at their settlement value, representing amortised cost as follows: cash is measured on initial recognition at value of cash held; debtors are measured on initial recognition at value of settlement amount after any trade discounts; creditors are measured on initial recognition at value of settlement amount after any trade discounts (assuming normal credit terms apply); and investments (non-puttable unit trusts, i.e. without an option to sell the shares at a later date at an agreed price) are measured on initial recognition at value of transaction price (cost).

The Union only enters into basic financial instrument transactions that result in the recognition of financial assets and liabilities like other debtors and creditors. Debt instruments that are payable or receivable within one year, typically other creditors or debtors, are measured, initially and subsequently, at the undiscounted amount of the cash or other consideration expected to be paid or received.

Financial assets that are measured at cost are assessed at the end of each reporting period for objective evidence of impairment. If objective evidence of impairment is found, an impairment loss is recognised within the operating surplus or loss. The impairment loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated cash flows discounted at the asset's original effective interest rate. If such a financial instrument has a variable interest rate, the discount rate for measuring any impairment loss is the current effective interest rate determined under the contract.

(p) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash on hand and balances with banks. Where applicable, cash and cash equivalents are revalued based on the relevant exchange rates at the reporting date.

In previous years, cash held by investment managers was also classified as a cash and cash equivalent on the basis that, at the previous balance sheet date, there was an expectation that funds would be required to meet operating liabilities as they fell due as a result of a significant deficit being forecast. At 31 December 2024, there is no expectation that cash held by investment managers will be required to meet short-term cash commitments either within a 12-month period or beyond. As it will be held exclusively for ongoing investment purposes, it is now classified as a fixed asset investment.

(q) Operating leases

Annual rentals are charged to operating profit on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

(r) Provision for liabilities and charges

Provisions are recognised when the ITF has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that the ITF will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The amount recognised is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. The ITF recognises a provision for annual leave accrued by employees as a result of services rendered in the current period, and which employees are entitled to carry forward and use within the next 12 months, and the provision is measured at the salary cost payable for the period of absence.

Independent Auditor's Report to members of the International Transport Workers' Federation Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the Group and the Union's affairs as at 31 December 2024 and of the Group's results for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 1992.

We have audited the financial statements of the International Transport Workers' Federation ("the Union") and its subsidiaries ("the Group") for the year ended 31 December 2024 which comprise the Group Statement of Income, the Group Statement of Financial Position, Group Statement of Cash Flows, Parent Organisation Statement of Financial Position, Group Statement of Changes in Equity and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including FRS 102 "The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland" (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Independence

We are independent of the Group and the Union in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the Executive Board's use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the Group and the Union's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the Executive Board with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The Executive Board is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Executive Board Report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters to which the Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 1992 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- proper accounting records have not been kept in accordance with the requirements of the Act; or
- the Union has not maintained a satisfactory system of controls over its transactions; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

Responsibilities of the Executive Board

As explained more fully in the Statement of Executive Board Members' Responsibilities, the Executive Board is responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the Executive Board determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Executive Board is responsible for assessing the Group and the Union's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Executive Board either intend to liquidate the Group or the Union or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Extent to which the audit was capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below.

Non-compliance with laws and regulations

We gained an understanding of the legal and regulatory framework applicable to the Union and the industry in which it operates, drawing on our broad sector experience, and considered the risk of acts by the Union that were contrary to these laws and regulations, including fraud. We focused on laws and regulations that could give rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements, including, but not limited to, the Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 1992, UK tax legislation and equivalent local laws and regulations. As part of discussions with management, we identified the internal controls established to mitigate risks related to non-compliance with laws and regulations and how management monitor these processes.

Our procedures in respect of the above included:

- Review of minutes of meetings of those charged with governance for any instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations;
- Review of correspondence with regulatory and tax authorities for any instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations;
- Review of financial statement disclosures and agreeing to supporting documentation to assess compliance with applicable laws and regulations;
- Review of legal expenditure accounts to understand the nature of expenditure incurred; and
- Discussion with management, including consideration of known or suspected instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations.

Fraud

As part of designing our audit, we determined materiality and assessed the risks of material misstatement in the financial statements, including how fraud may occur by enquiring of management of its own consideration of fraud. In particular, we looked at where management made subjective judgements, for example in respect of significant accounting estimates that involved making assumptions and considering future events that are inherently uncertain. We also considered potential financial or other pressures, opportunity and motivations for fraud. As part of this discussion we identified the internal controls established to mitigate risks related to fraud and how management monitor these processes.

Audit procedures performed by the engagement team included:

- Reading minutes of meeting of those charged with governance for any evidence of fraud or suspected fraud;
- In addressing the risk of fraud through management override of controls, we tested journal entries and other adjustments for inappropriate or unusual journals outside of our expectations, as well as for any significant transactions outside the normal course of business, taking into consideration the scope for management to manipulate financial result;
- Assessing the design and operating effectiveness of controls and procedures relevant to the preparation of the financial statements and the detection and prevention of irregularities and fraud;
- Challenging the assumptions and judgements made by management for key estimates. We considered the key estimates to be the valuation of the defined benefit pension scheme liability and the calculation of the ITF rebate to the IBF Seafarers' Support Fund.

Our audit procedures were designed to respond to risks of material misstatement in the financial statements, recognising that the risk of not detecting a material misstatement due to fraud is higher than the risk of not detecting one resulting from error, as fraud may involve deliberate concealment by, for example, forgery, misrepresentations or through collusion. There are inherent limitations in the audit procedures performed and the further removed non-compliance with laws and regulations is from the events and transactions reflected in the financial statements, the less likely we are to become aware of it.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Councils website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the members of the International Transport Workers' Federation, as a body, in accordance with the provisions of the Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 1992. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the Union those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the Union as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed..
