Application for permission to rent in England

Use this form to apply for permission to rent while waiting to find out if you'll be given status to remain.

You may qualify for permission to rent if:

- you have an outstanding protection claim, article 3 of the European Convention on Human Rights (ECHR) medical claim, or an outstanding appeal against the refusal of such a claim
- you have lodged further submissions against the refusal of a protection claim and the submissions have been outstanding for more than 5 working days
- you have an appeal outstanding which cannot be pursued from abroad
- you have a judicial review application that has been given permission to proceed, and the judicial review would as a matter of policy be treated as being suspensive of removal, this would continue until any reconsideration required of the Home Office as an outcome of the judicial review had been undertaken
- you have been granted bail by an immigration tribunal or the courts which contains a residence restriction and/or electronic monitoring restrictions
- you are a potential victim of modern slavery from the date of a positive reasonable grounds decision from the national referral mechanism (NRM) up until 2 weeks after either a positive or negative conclusive grounds decision
- you are a recognised victim of modern slavery with an associated outstanding application for discretionary leave
- you are a family with one or more children under the age of 18 who are cooperating with the Home Office's family returns process
- you are complying with the Home Office's Voluntary Returns Service (VRS) to voluntarily depart the UK: this includes those with genuine obstacles to return, providing that they are taking all reasonable steps to address these

If the above circumstances do not apply, you may still be considered for discretionary permission to rent:

- if your case would be better progressed if you were allowed permission to rent
- if you are considered to be a vulnerable individual or unable to make your own decisions
- in order to avoid a breach of a human rights claims

Once this form is completed it is to be sent to: CSCPUEnquiries@homeoffice.gov.uk

The Home Office will use the personal information you provide to consider your application.
