

Get help with paying power of attorney fees

Use this form if you are applying to register a lasting power of attorney (LPA) or an enduring power of attorney (EPA).

You can apply for either:

- remission - pay half the power of attorney fees
- Exemption - pay none of the power of attorney fees

Power of attorney fees

The fee to register a lasting power of attorney (LPA) or an enduring power of attorney (EPA) is paid when you send the power of attorney form to the Office of the Public Guardian (OPG). In some circumstances, a donor is entitled to pay less than the full fee for their power of attorney.

A remission means the fee is reduced by 50%, and is based on their circumstances.

An exemption means the donor doesn't have to pay any fee. This is usually because they receive certain means-tested benefits.

How much will I pay with a remission?

If you are entitled to a remission, you will pay £46 to apply to register an LPA or an EPA.

If you are making a repeat LPA application and are entitled to a remission, as agreed by OPG, you will pay £23 for an LPA or an EPA.

Exemption - paying no fee

The donor may not have to pay power of attorney fees if they get certain means-tested benefits, and they have not been awarded personal injury damages of more than £16,000. If they have been awarded personal injury damages of more than £16,000, and this amount was ignored when they were assessed for the benefit, they will have to pay a fee.

Damages awards includes payments provided as a result of criminal or medical negligence.

Acceptable Evidence

You must send us evidence of means-tested benefits which includes the donor's title, full name, address and postcode. The exact type is listed below for each benefit.

We will also need a letter or notification from the benefit provider confirming the amount the donor has received.

Evidence must be submitted at the same time the power of attorney is sent to OPG and must be for the correct financial year. A financial year is the period between 1 April and 31 March.

Means-tested benefits	Evidence accepted
Guarantee Credit element of Pension Credit	Full breakdown specifying guaranteed element, showing amount and dates received
Income-based Employment and Support Allowance	Full breakdown showing income related element of ESA, with amount and dates received
Income-based Job-Seeker's Allowance OR Income support OR Housing benefit	Entitlement letter showing amount and dates received

Local Housing Allowance	Entitlement letter showing amount and dates received
Working Tax Credit, combined with	Full breakdown showing working tax credit with a combination of one of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Child Tax Credit• Disability element• Severe disability element

Remission - paying half the fee

You may only have to pay half of the fees if the donor's annual income before tax is £12,000 or less.

Acceptable evidence

The evidence you send must confirm the donor's income type and amount. Proof must include the donor's title, full name, last known address and postcode.

Proof must be submitted for the correct financial year. A financial year is the period between 1 April and 31 March.

We do not accept bank statements as the sole proof of income without supporting documentation from the benefit or payment provider

Type Of Income	Proof Of Income
Paid employment	The last three consecutive wage slips from current employment
Self-employment	Most recent tax return (self assessment) or most recent HMRC tax calculation
Non-means-tested benefits	Such as Attendance Allowance (AA), Disability Living Allowance (DLA) and Personal Independence Payment (PIP) – an official letter or notice from the payer
State, private or occupational pensions including pension drawdown	A P60, letter or notification from the pension provider, or two consecutive payment advice slips confirming the gross amount paid

Income received by the donor from individuals such as a lodger, tenant, non-dependent children, relative etc.	Copies of rental statements paid to the donor
Universal Credit (If the donor receives Universal Credit and their total annual income before tax is no more than £12,000, a 50% remission may be granted.)	Twelve months of statements from the department of Work and Pensions (DWP) or a print screen for each of the 12 months from www.gov.uk/sign-in-universal-credit

Hardship

If the donor does not qualify for a fee reduction and paying fees would cause financial hardship, you can apply in writing for the fees to be waived. You can find more information about Hardship Applications in the guidance along with this form.

Review of exemption and remission decisions

If your application has been rejected and you have reason to believe it shouldn't have, you can request a review of the decision.

The request must be received within 28 days of the date of the letter that stated the outcome of your original application. It must be made in writing, giving the reasons you are requesting the review. You should enclose any documents you believe will support your request.

We will review the request and decide whether there is enough evidence for the original decision to be reversed or amended. We will notify you of the decision within 21 days. If a fee is still payable, you will also be notified of this.

You cannot make further requests for a review of the same application.

Please note:

If we do not receive the evidence needed to support your application or the evidence received does not meet the requirements, we may refuse it.

We may ask for more evidence to support your application. If you do not supply this, your application may be declined, and you will have to pay the full fee for your LPA.
