Publication

Below is information on when this version of the guidance was published:

- version 14.0
- published for Home Office staff on 8 April 2026

Changes from last version of this guidance

The guidance has been updated to reflect that eligibility for the BN(O) route has been expanded to BN(O)s' adult children who were born on or after 1 July 1979, the term 'Household Member' has been replaced with 'Adult Child', references to the 90 day entry clearance vignette have been removed as applicants attending a visa application centre no longer receive a vignette, applicants can now verify their identity using the UK Immigration: ID Check app when applying for settlement, the guidance confirms the forms required to submit an application and reflects the change in application fees in accordance with The Immigration, Nationality and Passports (Fees) (Amendment) Regulations 2026.

Introduction

This section sets out the context for British National (Overseas) (BN(O)) status.

BN(O) status is a form of British nationality created for people from Hong Kong so they could retain a form of British nationality and a connection to the UK after the handover to China in 1997 in line with the Sino-British Joint Declaration.

Anyone who was a British Dependent Territories citizen through a connection with Hong Kong was able to apply to register as a BN(O) status holder and apply for a BN(O) passport. People could apply for BN(O) status for a period of 10 years prior to the handover to China on 1 July 1997. Some children aged under 18 were also listed as BN(O) status holders in their parents' BN(O) passports at the time of the handover. BN(O) status is valid for life and cannot be passed on to spouses or children. It is not possible to apply for BN(O) status now.

The UK government introduced the Hong Kong British National (Overseas) (BN(O)) route to provide the opportunity for BN(O) status holders and certain family members to live, work, and study in the UK. This followed the imposition by the Chinese Government of a national security law on Hong Kong, in breach of the Sino-British Joint Declaration, which restricts the rights and freedoms of the people of Hong Kong.

Prospective applicants for the Hong Kong BN(O) route already in the UK on another route, for example the Skilled Worker route, can apply to switch from within the UK.

The Hong Kong BN(O) route provides for permission to stay and to obtain settlement in the UK, as well as entry clearance from overseas.

Overview of the Hong Kong BN(O) route

This section introduces the Hong Kong British National (Overseas) (BN(O)) route and gives an overview of the qualifying requirements.

What is the Hong Kong BN(O) route?

The Hong Kong BN(O) route allows BN(O) status holders and certain family members to live, work and study in the UK. After 5 years, applicants will be able to apply for settlement, and after a further year, British citizenship, providing they meet the requirements.

There are 2 pathways under the Hong Kong BN(O) route in the rules: the BN(O) Status Holder route and the BN(O) Adult Child route.

Applicants will be able to apply for permission for either 5 years or 30 months. Those granted entry clearance or permission to stay will be able to work in almost any capacity and study in the UK. They will not generally be able to access public funds.

In alignment with the UK, the Crown Dependencies (CDs) have also introduced a Hong Kong BN(O) route. Applicants to the BN(O) route operated by the CDs are subject to the same conditions and fees as those applying to the UK's Hong Kong BN(O) route. However, the Immigration Health Surcharge (IHS) is not payable for Crown Dependency BN(O) routes. The CDs make their own immigration rules as they are self-governing jurisdictions, but they have adopted the UK's BN(O) rules.

Applications for the Hong Kong BN(O) route can be made online on GOV.UK and via the UK Immigration: ID Check app.

Where to find the rules

The route-specific Immigration Rules are contained in Appendix Hong Kong British National \(Overseas\). These apply to all applications for entry clearance, permission to stay and settlement.

Structure of Appendix Hong Kong British National (Overseas)

Appendix Hong Kong British National (Overseas) is divided into 3 main parts:

- BN(O) Status Holder route
- BN(O) Adult Child route
- Settlement on the Hong Kong BN(O) route

Each part is further subdivided into the following sections:

- validity requirements
- suitability requirements
- eligibility requirements
- decision (including period and conditions of stay)

The BN(O) Status Holder route is for BN(O) status holders, their partner or spouse, their dependent children or grandchildren under the age of 18, and adult relatives with a high degree of dependency on the BN(O) or the BN(O)'s partner.

The BN(O) Adult Child route allows an adult child born on or after 1 July 1979 to a BN(O) status holder or the partner of a BN(O) status holder to apply on the Hong Kong BN(O) route.

There are some key differences to the eligibility requirements and to the types of dependants the adult child can bring; this is determined by whether the individual's parent is a BN(O) status holder or the partner of a BN(O) status holder.

The adult child of a BN(O) status holder can apply on the route regardless of whether their parent who holds BN(O) status has made an application or been granted permission on the route. Their partner, children aged under 18 and their adult dependent relatives can also apply on the route and can apply at the same time as the adult child or at a later date.

The adult child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder must form part of the same household as the BN(O) status holder and be applying at the same time as them. Their partner and children aged under 18 who form part of the same household as the BN(O) status holder can also apply, provided they do so at the same time as the BN(O) status holder.

The table below sets out the relevant paragraph numbers for each part and section of Appendix Hong Kong British National (Overseas):

Part	Validity	Suitability	Eligibility	Decision
BN(O) status holder: entry clearance or permission to stay	HK 1.1 to 1.3	HK 2.1 to 2.2	HK 3.1 to 7.4	HK 8.1 to 9.2
Dependent partner or BN(O) Household Child: entry clearance or permission to stay	HK 10.1 to 10.3	HK 11.1 to 11.2	HK 12.1 to HK 20.4	HK 21.1 to HK 22.5
BN(O)Adult Child: entry clearance or permission to stay	HK 23.1 to 23.6	HK 24.1 to 24.2	HK 25.1 to HK 29.4	HK 30.1 to HK 31.3

Part	Validity	Suitability	Eligibility	Decision
Dependent partner or child of a BN(O)Adult Child: entry clearance or permission to stay	HK 32.1 to 32.4	HK 33.1 to 33.2	HK 34.1 to HK 42.4	HK 43.1 to 44.5
BN(O) Adult Dependent Relative	HK 45.1 to 45.5	HK 46.1 to 46.2	HK 47.1 to HK 52.4	HK 53.1 to HK 54.3
Settlement	HK 55.1 to HK 55.3	HK 56.1 to HK 56.2	HK 57.1 to HK 63.1	HK 64.1 to HK 64.2

Considering evidence

This section provides general guidance on considering evidence submitted by an applicant on the Hong Kong British National (Overseas) (BN(O)) route, including when it may be appropriate to request further information, and verification or translation of documents.

Supporting documents and information

All applicants are required to submit relevant information and supporting documents (including but not limited to evidence of their BN(O) status, finances, and a valid tuberculosis (TB) test certificate) to show they meet the requirements of the route. The application form provides guidance to applicants on what evidence to submit.

Burden and standard of proof

The burden of proof is on the applicant to show they meet the validity and eligibility requirements of the rules. In some circumstances the burden may shift to the Home Office to show the applicant does not meet the suitability rules. See the relevant guidance on suitability for further information.

You must review the information on the application form and supporting evidence before deciding whether you are satisfied on the balance of probabilities (in other words that it is more likely than not) that the applicant has met the requirements of the rules.

Requesting more information

If you need more information, or clarification of certain details, to decide whether an application is valid, or if it meets the suitability and eligibility requirements, you should consider requesting more information. You should apply the guidance on validity and evidential flexibility and consult the sections on validity and evidential flexibility below.

Verifying documents

You must conduct verification checks if you have any doubts about whether any supporting document an applicant has submitted is genuine.

Documents not in English or Welsh

All documents submitted with an application should be in English or Welsh. If the applicant submits documents in another language and you are unable to understand or interpret the evidence, you must ask them to submit a certified translation if they have not already provided one with their application. The translation must:

- confirm that it is an accurate translation of the original document
- be dated

- include the full name and signature of the translator or an authorised official of the translation company
- include the translator or translation company's contact details
- if the applicant is applying for permission to stay or settlement, be certified by a qualified translator and include details of the translator or translation company's credentials

If the translation does not meet these requirements and you are unable to understand or interpret the document, you may disregard it as evidence. This may result in the application being refused. For example, if you are unable to understand or interpret the applicant's evidence of their relationship to the BN(O) status holder (and they have not provided a suitable translation), and there is no other relevant evidence, you must refuse the application on the basis that you are not satisfied that they are the dependant of a BN(O) status holder. For further information, see guidance on example refusal wording for applications on the Hong Kong BN(O) route.

Translation of Welsh documents

Birth, marriage, civil partnership and death certificates issued in Wales are issued either in English only or bilingually (that is, with both Welsh and English printed on the same document). Such documents will therefore not require translation.

If you receive any supporting documentation in Welsh only (for example, an employer's covering letter), and you and your colleagues are unable to understand Welsh, you must arrange for the document to be translated into English.

Under the Home Office Welsh language scheme, customers living in Wales are entitled to correspond with the Home Office in Welsh. If an applicant writes to you in Welsh, they must receive a reply in Welsh.

The Home Office has a framework agreement with the Big Word translation company to translate material to and from Welsh. The cost of any translation must be met by your unit or directorate.

For guidance on handling correspondence in Welsh and how to procure Welsh translation services, see: Staff guide to the Home Office Welsh language scheme.

Validity requirements

This section tells you what validity requirements an applicant must meet for a grant of entry clearance, permission to stay in the UK or settlement on the Hong Kong British National (Overseas) (BN(O)) route.

For further information, see the guidance on Applications for leave to remain: validation, variation and withdrawal.

Entry clearance or permission to stay

Before you consider an application for entry clearance or permission to stay, you must check whether the application is valid. The validity requirements for the Hong Kong BN(O) route are set out in the following paragraphs of the Immigration Rules:

Applicant	Paragraphs
BN(O) Status Holder	HK 1.1 to 1.4
Dependent partner	HK 10.1 to 10.3
BN(O) Household Child	HK 10.1 to 10.3
BN(O) Adult Child	HK 23.1 to 23.6
BN(O) Adult Child's dependent partner	HK 32.1 to 32.4
BN(O) Adult Child's dependent child	HK 32.1 to 32.4
BN(O) Adult Dependent Relative	HK 45.1 to 45.5

Requirement: applications made online

Applicants must apply by using the specified online application form on GOV.UK, or using the UK Immigration: ID Check app.

The table below shows which application form applicants can use according to which nationality they hold.

Applicant	Specified form
For Entry Clearance or Permission to Stay applications Applicants with a chipped BN(O), Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (HKSAR), or European Economic Area (EEA) passport	Either: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Hong Kong British National (Overseas) Visa using the UK Immigration: ID Check app• Hong Kong British National (Overseas) Visa

Applicant	Specified form
Other applicants of any other nationality	Hong Kong British National (Overseas) Visa
For settlement applications Applicants with a chipped BN(O) or HKSAR passport Note: Passports that have expired and are within 5 years of their expiration date at the date of application will be accepted when using the UK Immigration: ID Check app.	Either: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Settlement Hong Kong British National (Overseas) using the UK Immigration: ID Check app • Apply to settle in the UK - certain categories only, selecting the Hong Kong British National (Overseas) category.
Other applicants of any other nationality	Apply to settle in the UK - certain categories only, selecting the Hong Kong British National (Overseas) category.

Requirement: fee payment

The application fee for the Hong Kong BN(O) route is £206 for 30 months' permission and £285 for 5 years' permission.

The fee applies to each applicant.

Check the fees regulations and UK visa fees on GOV.UK for the most up to date information.

Requirement: Immigration Health Surcharge payment

The applicant must have paid the Immigration Health Surcharge (IHS). For further information, see the guidance on the Immigration Health Surcharge.

The Immigration Health Surcharge is not payable for the Crown Dependencies' Hong Kong BN(O) routes.

Affordability fee waiver

An applicant can apply for a fee waiver for the application fee and / or IHS if they are applying to extend their permission on the BN(O) route for 30 months. They must demonstrate that they are in receipt of public funds having previously successfully applied for a change of conditions (CoC), and that they cannot afford the fee and / or the IHS.

If the applicant does not qualify to waive their fees but they meet all other requirements for further permission to stay on the BN(O) route, you should request the payment of the fees and once received, grant them as standard with no recourse to public funds.

Where an applicant has stated that they cannot afford either or both the fee / IHS in their application, you will need to write to the individual to obtain information on their financial situation. Once you have received this information from the applicant, you will need to complete an affordability assessment to see whether the applicant has demonstrated they cannot afford the fee. See guidance on fee waivers for more information.

Evidence

You should check the applicant has a unique application number (UAN) which will show whether they were previously successful at lifting their no recourse to public funds (NRPF) condition via a CoC application.

The applicant should be asked to provide evidence to show they are in receipt of public funds (such as welfare benefits or tax credits). Relevant evidence may include bank statements or relevant statements / documentation from DWP or HMRC showing a continuous public funds payment. The evidence should be up to date with the most recent payment being made within 3 months of the date of their application. If the applicant does not provide this in the application form, you should write to the applicant to request the relevant evidence.

You must also be satisfied that the applicant cannot afford the fee and / or IHS and that they have provided sufficient evidence to prove their underlying financial circumstances have not changed since they successfully applied for a CoC. Generally, an applicant can be taken to satisfy these requirements if they show that their financial circumstances have not changed since the CoC and they are in receipt of public funds. Relevant evidence of this will include all bank account statements showing their income and expenditure over a recent period. If the applicant has not provided sufficient evidence, you should write to request this. See guidance on fee waivers for more information.

Fee waiver eligibility

If the applicant has not provided evidence that they qualify for a waiver of the fees, you must write to inform the applicant that they must pay the fees otherwise their application will be rejected.

Initial applications

Initial applications for entry clearance or permission to stay are not eligible for a fee or IHS waiver. If an initial application is submitted without payment of the fees, you must reject the application.

Official – sensitive: end of section

Requirement: biometrics

Under the Immigration (Biometric Registration) Regulations 2008 (as amended), all applicants are required to provide a passport-style facial photograph of themselves as part of the application process.

BN(O), Hong Kong SAR (HKSAR), or European Economic Area (EEA) passport holders applying from overseas or in the UK will not have to provide fingerprints if they successfully apply on the UK Immigration: ID Check app. However, if an applicant is not able to use this application route (for example because they do not hold a biometric chipped passport or the chip checker fails), they must provide fingerprint biometrics at a registered visa application centre overseas or at a UKVCAS service point in the UK.

All other passport holders will be required to present their passport and give their fingerprint biometrics at a registered visa application centre overseas or at a UKVCAS service point in the UK as part of the application process.

See the published biometric guidance for more details.

Requirement: proof of identity

The application form includes guidance for applicants on what they can submit as proof of identity to meet the requirements set out in Appendix Hong Kong British National (Overseas).

An applicant must provide a passport or other travel document which satisfactorily establishes their identity and nationality.

Requirement: age

A BN(O) status holder must be aged 18 or over on the date of application.

A BN(O) Household Child must be under the age of 18 at the date of application.

A BN(O) adult child must have been born on or after 1 July 1979 and must be aged 18 or over on the date of application.

Settlement

Before you consider an application for settlement, you must check whether the application is valid. The validity requirements are set out in paragraphs HK 55.1 to HK 55.3 of the Immigration Rules.

These requirements include that the applicant's last grant of permission must have been on the Hong Kong BN(O) route and they must be in the UK when applying for settlement.

BN(O) Adult Child	HK 24.1 to 24.2
Dependent partner of a BN(O) Adult Child	HK 33.1 to 33.2
BN(O) Adult Child's child	HK 33.1 to 33.2
BN(O) Adult Dependent Relative	HK 46.1 to 46.2
Settlement	HK 56.1 to HK 56.2

To meet the suitability requirements above, you must check that the applicant does not fall for refusal under any of the grounds for refusal in Part Suitability of the Immigration Rules.

If the applicant is applying for permission to stay or settlement, you must check that:

- the applicant is not in breach of immigration laws, except periods of overstaying discounted under the 'Exceptions for Overstayers' section- - refer to the full guidance on overstaying for more information
- the applicant is not on immigration bail, except where they have been placed on such bail after having made an asylum claim in the UK

For guidance on assessing this requirement, see Part Suitability. You should consult the relevant part of the guidance according to the circumstances of the applicant.

Previous asylum claims

If the applicant is on immigration bail because they have a pending asylum claim in the UK, you should not refuse their application because of this.

If an applicant has a period of overstaying or being on immigration bail in the UK because they withdrew their asylum claim before applying to the BN(O) route, you should disregard the period of overstaying if they applied to the BN(O) route within a reasonable period.

You should consider whether an application was made within a reasonable period on a case-by-cases basis depending on the individual circumstances. However, generally an applicant will be expected to have made an application no more than one month after withdrawing their asylum claim.

Overseas convictions and offences not recognised in the UK

Some overseas convictions do not have a direct equivalent in the UK and would not be recognised. For example, some convictions may be for offences which are not crimes in the UK. Furthermore, some overseas offences may carry a much higher penalty than an equivalent offence would in the UK. Such convictions would not count as automatic grounds for refusal on this route. See the section in the criminality guidance titled: 'Overseas convictions and offences not recognised in the UK' for more information. You must consult your senior caseworker and the BN(O) Route Policy team if this consideration applies.

See the sections Grant or refuse entry clearance and Grant or refuse permission to stay for more information about refusing an application.

Applicant refused on suitability grounds

If you are not satisfied the applicant meets the suitability requirements, you must refuse the application. You should still fully consider whether the applicant meets the eligibility requirements for entry clearance, permission to stay, or settlement, as appropriate. If the applicant also fails under any of the eligibility criteria, you must also include these in the refusal notice.

Eligibility for entry clearance or permission to stay

This section tells you the eligibility requirements for entry clearance or permission to stay on the Hong Kong British National (Overseas) (BN(O)) route.

BN(O) status holder requirement

The main applicant who is applying on the BN(O) Status Holder route must be a BN(O) status holder.

The definition of a BN(O) status holder can be found in the Passports of UK and British Overseas Citizens guidance and the British Overseas Citizens guidance. Evidence of BN(O) status may include a valid or expired BN(O) passport or confirmation of registration as a BN(O) status holder using Home Office records such as the relevant HM Passport Office (HMPO) database.

An applicant may hold both BN(O) status and British citizenship. British citizens have the right of abode in the UK. If a BN(O) status holder who is also a British citizen makes an application, you should void their application. However, where the applicant is a dual BN(O) and British citizen they can sponsor family members without needing to apply to the route themselves see section on British Citizenship.

BN(O) status holders who were registered as children

Some applicants who were under 18 on 1 July 1997 may have been added onto their parent's passport. You should therefore check their parent's details on the relevant HMPO database. Furthermore, some BN(O) status holders were born between 1 January 1997 and 30 June 1997. Their parents were given until 30 September 1997, after the handover, to register them as BN(O) status holders.

Lack of evidence of BN(O) status

If the applicant claims to hold BN(O) status, or claims their parent has BN(O) status where they are applying under the BN(O) Adult Child route as the adult child of a BN(O) status holder, but cannot produce evidence of their eligibility, for example their BN(O) passport or their parent's BN(O) passport is lost or has been stolen, you should check the relevant HMPO database. If you have no grounds to believe there is fraud or abuse, confirmation with HMPO will be sufficient for meeting this requirement. If the passport has been stolen and there are concerns around the applicant's identity, you may consult Intel and / or refuse the application.

The information on this page has been removed as it is restricted for internal Home Office use.

Financial requirement

This section tells you about the financial requirement for the Hong Kong BN(O) route for entry clearance and permission to stay.

There is no set level of funds an applicant must hold. However, all applicants, including their dependants, must be able to prove they can adequately maintain and accommodate themselves in the UK for 6 months without access to public funds.

Evidence of finances must be shown as set out in Appendix Finance to the Immigration Rules. The most recently dated piece of evidence should be dated within 31 days of the date of application

Applicants can rely on credible offers of financial support and / or accommodation from a third party (for example, a relative or friend) to meet this requirement. The test for adequate maintenance is whether you can show that, after your accommodation costs have been paid, you have at least as much money as you would if your family were receiving income support in the UK.

For further guidance on assessing adequate maintenance, see the Financial requirement guidance.

Applicants will not have to meet the financial requirement if they have already been living in the UK for 12 months when they apply for permission to stay on the Hong Kong BN(O) route except for those who have been granted 12 months' leave outside the rules where their BN(O) application has been refused previously. See 'Applicants who have lived in the UK for 12 months with permission' in the Financial requirement guidance for further information on how to assess this.

Entry clearance applications

If you are not satisfied that the applicant and their dependants can meet the financial requirement, you must refuse the application for entry clearance.

Permission to stay applications

If the applicant and their dependants are applying for permission to stay in the UK, but their applications fall for refusal because you are not satisfied they can meet the financial requirement, you can exercise discretion to grant 12 months' leave outside the rules. See the guidance on 'Exceptions: leave outside the rules following a refusal' in the 'Grant or refuse permission to stay' section for further information.

Ordinary residence requirement

This section sets out what documentary evidence an applicant must provide to prove their ordinary residence.

Ordinary residence has the following features:

- it is a regular, habitual mode of life in a particular place
- its continuity has persisted despite temporary absences
- it may be of long or short duration
- it must be lawful
- it must have been adopted voluntarily
- it must be for a settled purpose

The sections below provide non-exhaustive lists of the type of documentary evidence which the applicant will be able to provide. The guidance below is not prescriptive or definitive. Some applicants may lack documentary evidence in their own name for various reasons, you must work flexibly with applicants to help them evidence their ordinary residence by the best means available to them.

Periods of absence do not necessarily mean that a person's ordinary residence has ceased. Applicants for the Hong Kong BN(O) route can apply for entry clearance from any country outside the UK but must be able to demonstrate their ordinary residence in Hong Kong.

For example, students studying abroad, businesspeople working away from Hong Kong or applicants visiting family overseas when they apply for the Hong Kong BN(O) route would usually meet the requirement for ordinary residence in Hong Kong, providing they were ordinarily resident in Hong Kong prior to travelling. However, an applicant for the Hong Kong BN(O) route with a permanent or settled immigration status in another country would likely not meet the ordinary residence requirement for entry clearance.

For further information, see 'Absences during a period of residence' in the guidance on Nationality policy: assessing ordinary residence.

Entry clearance applications

Applicants who have submitted an application for entry clearance must be outside the UK and must show they are ordinarily resident in Hong Kong at the date of application.

Evidence of ordinary residence in Hong Kong could be (but is not limited to) a combination of the following documents:

- an official Hong Kong ID card
- an official Hong Kong permanent ID card
- itemised bank statements
- a letter from an employer confirming their employment in Hong Kong
- a visa or residence permit or other immigration documents (a colour photocopy would be acceptable) showing residence in Hong Kong
- an educational record, for example a school report
- tax records

- records of rent or mortgage payments
- payslips
- household or utility bills
- valid tuberculosis certificate (see: Tuberculosis \(TB\) certificate requirement)
- passport stamps that show an applicant travelling from, and returning to, Hong Kong for travel overseas

Tuberculosis certificates and passport stamps can only be accepted as evidence of ordinary residence in Hong Kong in conjunction with other forms of evidence.

Permission to stay applications

Applicants for permission to stay must be in the UK and must show they are ordinarily resident in the UK, the Bailiwick of Guernsey, the Bailiwick of Jersey, the Isle of Man or Hong Kong at the date of application.

If the applicant is applying for permission to stay, for example they were granted leave outside the rules at the border or they have a previous grant of permission, you should check whether there is an existing immigration footprint for them to evidence their ordinary residence (for example, a passport stamp confirming entry at the UK border). If they do have an existing immigration footprint, then further evidence of their residence is not required.

If there is no existing immigration footprint, evidence of ordinary residence in the UK, the Bailiwick of Guernsey, Bailiwick of Jersey, or the Isle of Man could be:

- a letter from an employer or education provider confirming their employment or study
- a dated bank statement showing payments received or spending
- a dated letter from a GP or other healthcare professional confirming the applicant's attendance at appointments, or a card issued by the healthcare professional confirming those appointments
- a payslip or most recent P60
- a dated, UK or Islands-addressed domestic utility bill or council tax bill
- a letter from the local council or a government
- a voter's card
- an educational record, for example a school report
- other immigration documents
- records of rent or mortgage payments
- tax records

If the applicant and their dependants are applying for permission to stay in the UK but their applications fall for refusal because you are not satisfied they can meet the ordinary residence requirement, you have the discretion to grant 12 months' leave outside the rules. See the guidance on 'Exceptions: leave outside the rules following a refusal' in the 'Grant or refuse permission to stay' section for further information.

In most cases this will be a simple assessment. In more complex cases, the principles of establishing whether someone is ordinarily resident in the UK may be applied here. See: Nationality Policy - assessing ordinary residence.

Tuberculosis (TB) certificate requirement

Applicants and their dependants are required to provide a valid TB certificate for entry clearance or permission to stay applications, unless a qualifying exemption applies.

Entry clearance applications

Where an applicant is applying for entry clearance, they will need to provide a valid TB certificate with their application if they have been residing within a country listed in Appendix Tuberculosis of the Immigration Rules for the 6 months immediately preceding the application.

The requirement is met if the applicant provided a valid TB certificate as part of a successful application for entry clearance in the 12 months prior to the date of application for the Hong Kong BN(O) route, for example they were granted entry clearance on a family visa or family permit.

If an applicant on the BN(O) route has not supplied a valid TB certificate when they are required to do so, you should make one attempt to contact the applicant and give them 10 working days to provide the certificate. If the applicant fails to provide a valid TB certificate following this, the application should be refused. If an applicant's certificate shows that they have tested positive for TB, their application should also be refused.

For further information regarding which applicants are required to obtain a TB certificate before applying and the approved test centres, see Tuberculosis tests for visa applicants on GOV.UK.

Permission to stay applications

For in-country applications, if the applicant has last been granted permission to stay in the UK for 6 months or less at the date of application, they must provide a valid test certificate obtained either from an approved clinic in the UK or an approved clinic outside the UK if they were previously in a country listed in Appendix Tuberculosis of the rules.

The requirement is met if the applicant provided a valid TB certificate as part of a successful application for entry clearance in the 12 months prior to the date of application for the Hong Kong BN(O) route, for example they were granted entry clearance on a family visa or family permit.

For permission to stay applications, where applicants have tested positive for TB and can demonstrate that they are getting treatment (for example a letter from a GP), their application should not be refused but should be kept on hold, allowing the applicant to stay with 3C leave for a minimum of 6 months while they undertake a full course of treatment. If the applicant provides a positive test certificate and then a negative test certificate shortly afterwards, this should not be taken as proof that the applicant no longer has TB. The applicant must complete a full course of treatment (minimum 6 months) and have written evidence of successful treatment before being reassessed for TB infection.

For further information regarding which applicants are required to obtain a TB certificate before applying and the approved test centres, see Tuberculosis tests for visa applicants on GOV.UK.

Children

All children must see a clinician at an approved clinic who will decide if they need a chest x-ray. If the clinician decides the child does not have TB, they will provide a certificate which should be included in their application.

Evidential flexibility

Consult the guidance on evidential flexibility further information on how to assess cases where evidence is missing.

Eligible dependants

This section sets out which family members can apply to come to the UK or remain in the UK under the Hong Kong British National (Overseas) (BN(O)) route. This includes eligible dependants under the BN(O) Status Holder route and the BN(O) Adult Child route.

The best interests of a child

The duty in section 55 of the Borders, Citizenship and Immigration Act 2009 to have regard to the need to safeguard and promote the welfare of a child under the age of 18 in the UK, together with Article 3 of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, means that consideration of the child's best interests must be a primary consideration in immigration decisions affecting them. This guidance and the Immigration Rules it covers form part of the arrangements for ensuring that we give practical effect to these obligations.

Where a child or children in the UK will be affected by the decision, you must have regard to their best interests in making the decision. You must carefully consider all the information and evidence provided concerning the best interests of a child in the UK and the impact the decision may have on the child.

Although the duty in section 55 only applies to children in the UK, the statutory guidance – Every Child Matters – Change for Children – provides guidance on the extent to which the spirit of the duty should be applied to children overseas. You must adhere to the spirit of the duty and make enquiries when you have reason to suspect that a child may be in need of protection or safeguarding, or presents welfare needs that require attention. In some instances, international or local agreements are in place that permit or require children to be referred to the authorities of other countries and you are to abide by these and work with local agencies in order to develop arrangements that protect children and reduce the risk of trafficking and exploitation.

Further guidance can be found in paragraphs 2.34 to 2.36 of the statutory guidance.

BN(O) Status Holder route

Any dependants must meet the eligibility and suitability requirements of this route.

On their first application under the route, all family members applying to the BN(O) Status Holder route must be able to demonstrate that they meet a relationship requirement which links them to a BN(O) status holder. If they are applying as the grandchild of a BN(O) status holder, they must also demonstrate that they form part of the same household as that BN(O) status holder.

In subsequent applications, following a successful grant of permission, it will be sufficient for the partner or Adult Dependent Relative of a BN(O) status holder to show that they already hold permission on the route. A child or grandchild who is under the age of 18 must continue to demonstrate that they meet a relationship requirement which links them to a person who has permission under the route. This is to ensure that those who have an on-going need to be cared for or supported by a relevant family member cannot have their application disconnected from that family member.

A child who is under the age of 18 on their first application but following a successful grant of permission is aged 18 or over on their subsequent application, should apply as a BN(O) adult child in that subsequent application and, as with other adult children applying to extend their permission, will not need to demonstrate that they continue to meet a relationship requirement.

Dependent children should be granted permission in line with the end date of their parents. If the parents' permissions have different end dates, then the child should be granted in line with the parent who has the latest end date.

If the BN(O) status holder also holds British citizenship

The family members of an individual who holds both British citizenship and BN(O) status can apply under the BN(O) route.

The applicant should provide evidence of their family member's British citizenship and BN(O) status as part of their application. This may include valid or expired British and BN(O) passports. If they do not provide this evidence, you should check the relevant HMPO databases or request the relevant evidence from the applicant.

Once you have confirmed that the applicant's family member holds both British citizenship and BN(O) status, you should continue to consider their application as normal.

If a BN(O) status holder is deceased or dies during the application process

Family members of a BN(O) status holder who died before an application was made under the Hong Kong BN(O) route will not be eligible to apply as if they were dependants of the deceased BN(O) status holder, unless they are a BN(O) status holder in their own right, or the family member of another BN(O) status holder.

This does not apply if the BN(O) status holder dies during the application process. Under a concession outside Appendix Hong Kong British National (Overseas), if the main applicant has submitted an application for permission under the BN(O) route that would not have been refused and their identity can be verified, regardless of whether they have submitted a valid application, you should consider the applications of their family members.

You should assess whether they meet the eligibility and suitability requirements of the route as if the deceased applicant were still alive. You must consider the care requirement for dependent children and the dependency requirement for adult dependent relatives as set out below. If they do meet all remaining requirements, you can grant them permission on the BN(O) route. You may request further evidence if necessary, for instance, if the maintenance funds were held exclusively by the deceased main applicant at the time of applying, in line with the guidance on evidential flexibility.

The identity of the main applicant must still be verified. If the BN(O) main applicant has enrolled biometrics at a visa application centre or UKVCAS service point or has scanned their passport on the UK Immigration: ID Check App, you will be able to confirm their identity and, therefore, the eligibility of the applicant and their family members for the route. If they had not yet enrolled their biometrics, you should write to the family of the deceased applicant to ask them to submit the BN(O) status holder's passport in order to verify their identity.

You will also need to appoint one of the remaining family members as the main applicant for the purpose of granting permission for the dependants. In most cases, this will be another adult who is responsible for the care of the remaining applicants, for example the dependent partner.

The care requirement also still applies to dependent children under 18 and the dependency requirement still applies to adult dependent relatives. In order to meet the care / dependency requirements for the route and maintain a necessary level of safeguarding, if the deceased applicant was the sole care provider for dependants who are either children under 18 or an Adult Dependent Relative, you should refuse their applications on the grounds that the applicant or applicants do not meet the care or dependency requirement in the rules. If there is, however, another adult who is responsible for the care of the children or the Adult Dependent Relative (for instance, a spouse or partner, or the other parent of the children) who is also making an application, or already has permission on the route, you should consider the care requirement met as long as you are satisfied that the individual is responsible for the dependants' care.

Additionally, if a BN(O) status holder passes away during the application process, and their partner, children under 18 or Adult Dependent Relative subsequently make an application under the BN(O) route, their applications may be considered as if the deceased applicant were still alive (subject to the guidance above on meeting the dependency requirement). See the section on 'applying together: Who can apply at a later date from the main applicant?' below for more information.

If a family member makes a subsequent application for permission to stay, but their main applicant has passed away since the initial grant, you should still consider whether their application meets the requirements of the rules. You may consult your senior caseworker, who may refer to the BN(O) Route Policy team, for further advice.

Dependent partner

The dependent partner on the BN(O) Status Holder route must:

- meet the relationship requirement
- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying for entry clearance
- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying for permission to stay in the UK

- meet the financial requirements
- be ordinarily resident in Hong Kong, the UK, the Bailiwick of Jersey, the Bailiwick of Guernsey, or the Isle of Man

Assessing the relationship

The dependent partner must meet the relationship requirement. If they are applying for permission to stay and have permission as a dependent partner on the BN(O) Status Holder route on the date of application, they will meet the relationship requirement.

Otherwise, they must demonstrate the relationship between the applicant and the BN(O) status holder is genuine and subsisting.

A BN(O) status holder's spouse or civil partner should enclose a digital copy of their marriage or civil partnership certificate along with their application.

If the partner is not the spouse or civil partner of the BN(O), they must show that:

- they have been in a relationship similar to marriage or civil partnership for at least 2 years before applying
- any previous relationships of the BN(O) status holder or the partner have permanently broken down
- they are not so closely related that they would not be allowed to marry in the UK

See the Relationship with a partner guidance for further information.

BN(O) Household Child

A BN(O) Household Child is the dependent child or grandchild under the age of 18 of a BN(O) status holder or their partner who is applying on the BN(O) Status Holder route.

Both parents of the BN(O) Household Child must have permission to be in the UK (other than as a visitor) or be applying at the same time as the Household Child. For example, this requirement would be satisfied where one parent is in the UK under the BN(O) route and the other is applying at the same time as the BN(O) Household Child.

The requirement to have permission does not apply if the parent is a British citizen, or a person who has a right to enter or stay in the UK without restriction (although such persons are required to be ordinarily resident in the UK, or to become so). The following exemptions apply:

- the parent who is a BN(O) status holder or the partner of a BN(O) status holder is the only living parent
- the parent who is a BN(O) status holder or the partner of a BN(O) status holder has sole responsibility for bringing up the child

- there are serious and compelling reasons to grant the child entry clearance or permission to stay with the parent who has permission on the Hong Kong BN(O) route
- there are serious and compelling reasons to grant the child entry clearance or permission to stay with the BN(O) grandparent or BN(O) grandparent's partner who has permission on the Hong Kong BN(O) route

The Household Child must:

- meet the relationship requirement
- be under the age of 18 at the date of application
- meet the care requirement for a dependent child in Appendix Children
- intend to live with a parent who has permission on the BN(O) status holder route during their stay in the UK
- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying for entry clearance
- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying in country
- meet the financial requirements
- be ordinarily resident in Hong Kong, the UK, the Bailiwick of Jersey, the Bailiwick of Guernsey, or the Isle of Man

If a dependent child is born in the UK to a BN(O) status holder and / or their partner, who already have permission on the route, the BN(O) status holder and / or their partner should apply for permission for the child and provide a full UK birth certificate showing the names of the child's parents.

Assessing the relationship

The BN(O) status holder or their partner must show evidence that they are the parent, adopted parent or guardian of the Household Child, such as:

- a full birth certificate
- an adoption certificate
- a court order, such as a special guardianship order

Adult Dependent Relative of a BN(O) status holder or their partner

An Adult Dependent Relative is a person aged 18 or over at the date of the application who is the:

- parent
- grandparent
- brother or sister
- son or daughter

of a BN(O) status holder or BN(O) status holder's dependent partner.

Assessing high dependency

Assessing high dependency is guided by, but not limited to, the following factors:

- their age, illness, or disability requires long-term personal care to perform everyday tasks
- the applicant is unable to access care in Hong Kong, even with the practical and financial support of the BN(O) status holder or the BN(O) status holder's partner

You can request further information to establish the level of their dependency on the BN(O) status holder or the BN(O) status holder's partner / spouse, such as evidence of medical conditions and how care is provided.

See the guidance on Adult dependent relatives for further information.

See adult dependent relatives of the adult child of a BN\(O\) status holder for more information on how to assess applications from adult dependent relatives on the BN(O) Adult Child route.

Applying together

Under the BN(O) Status Holder route, our expectation is that BN(O) status holders and relevant family members will usually apply together, although they may choose to travel to the UK separately. See: Travelling to the UK separately. In practice, this means that the main applicant who is a BN(O) status holder should apply first and receive their Unique Applicant Number (UAN) or Global Web Form (GWF) reference. Any dependants applying should quote this UAN or GWF in their applications.

Who must apply together with the main applicant?

A grandchild of a BN(O) status holder or their partner must apply for permission at the same time as the BN(O) status holder. They must pay their application fee within 48 hours of the BN(O) status holder submitting their application. If a BN(O) status holder is granted entry clearance or permission to stay and a grandchild makes an application at a later date, you must refuse the application.

Who can apply at a later date from the main applicant?

Dependent partners, dependent children aged under 18 and adult dependent relatives are not required to apply at the same time as the main applicant and can instead apply to join them at a later date. When applying as a dependent partner, child or Adult Dependent Relative for the first time, the main applicant must have either made a valid application for entry clearance or permission to stay that has not been decided, have entry clearance or permission as a BN(O) status holder or as the partner of a BN(O) status holder or be a dual British Citizen and British National (Overseas).

The partner and dependent child of a BN(O) status holder who passed away during the application process are also not required to have applied at the same time as the main applicant.

BN(O) Adult Child route

Up until 8 April 2026, this route was referred to as the 'Household Member' route. It has been renamed the 'Adult Child' route to provide more consistent terminology. This is a terminology update only, and individuals who were granted leave under the former Household Member route remain subject to the same conditions that were attached to their original permission.

The BN(O) Adult Child route allows the adult child of a BN(O) status holder or the adult child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder, who was born on or after 1 July 1979 and is aged 18 or over, to apply to the Hong Kong BN(O) route with their eligible family members. The BN(O) Adult Child route may also be used where a person had permission as a BN(O) Household Child but no longer qualifies for that route because they are now aged 18 or over. The applicant cannot have, or have last had, permission as a BN(O) Adult Dependent Relative on the Hong Kong BN(O) route.

On their first application under the route, all family members applying to the BN(O) Adult Child route must be able to demonstrate that they meet a relationship requirement which links them to the adult child of a BN(O) status holder or the adult child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder. If they are applying as the family member of the adult child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder, they will also need to form part of the same household as that BN(O) status holder.

In subsequent applications, following a successful grant of permission, it will be sufficient for a dependent partner or Adult Dependent Relative to show that they already hold permission on the route. A child who is under the age of 18 must continue to demonstrate that they meet a relationship requirement which links them to a person who has permission under the route. This is to ensure that those who have an on-going need to be cared for or supported by a relevant family member cannot have their application disconnected from that family member.

The BN(O) Adult Child route has 2 subcategories depending on whether the applicant is the child of a BN(O) status holder or the child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder.

Adult child of a BN(O) Status Holder

An adult child is the child (aged 18 or over and born on or after 1 July 1979) of a BN(O) status holder or the partner of a BN(O) status holder.

The adult child of a BN(O) status holder must:

- be the child of a BN(O) status holder or someone who held BN(O) status before their death

- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying for entry clearance
- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying in country
- meet the financial requirements
- be ordinarily resident in Hong Kong, the UK, the Bailiwick of Jersey, the Bailiwick of Guernsey, or the Isle of Man

The adult child of a BN(O) status holder can apply independently from their BN(O) parents. Applicants do not need to form part of the BN(O) status holder's household and do not need to apply at the same time.

Assessing the relationship

The applicant must show evidence that they are the child of a BN(O) status holder, such as:

- a full birth certificate
- an adoption certificate
- a court order, such as a special guardianship order

The adult child must also show proof that their BN(O) parent holds BN(O) status (or did so before their death) such as:

- a copy of their parent's BN(O) passport
- their parent's BN(O) passport number

In circumstances where they are unable to obtain any of the evidence listed above, they can provide their parent's date of birth and full name which can be checked using HMPO's records.

If an adult child of a BN(O) status holder is deceased or dies during the application process

Family members of an adult child of a BN(O) status holder who died before an application was made under the Hong Kong BN(O) route will not be eligible to apply as if they were dependants of the deceased BN(O) adult child.

This does not apply if the adult child of a BN(O) status holder dies during the application process. Under a concession outside Appendix Hong Kong British National (Overseas), if the deceased applicant has submitted an application for permission under the BN(O) route that would not have been refused and their identity can be verified, regardless of whether they have submitted a valid application, you should consider the applications of their family members.

You should assess whether they meet the eligibility and suitability requirements of the route as if the deceased applicant were still alive, including confirming that the deceased applicant was the child of a BN(O) status holder. You must also consider the care requirement for dependent children and the dependency requirement for adult dependent relatives as set out below. If they do meet all remaining requirements, you can grant them permission on the BN(O) route. You may request further evidence if necessary, for instance, if the maintenance funds are held exclusively by the deceased applicant at the time of applying, in line with the guidance on evidential flexibility.

The identity of the deceased applicant must still be verified. If the adult child of a BN(O) status holder had enrolled biometrics at a visa application centre or UKVCAS service point or scanned their passport on the UK Immigration: ID Check App, you will be able to confirm their identity and therefore, eligibility of the applicant and their family members for the route. If they had not yet enrolled their biometrics, you should write to the family of the deceased applicant to ask them to submit the passport of the adult child of a BN(O) status holder in order to verify their identity.

You will also need to appoint one of the remaining family members as the main applicant for the purpose of granting permission for the dependants. In most cases, this will be another adult who is responsible for the care of the remaining applicants, for example the dependent partner.

The care requirement also still applies to dependent children under 18 and the dependency requirement to adult dependent relatives. In order to meet the care requirements for the route and maintain a necessary level of safeguarding, if the deceased applicant was the sole care provider for dependants who are either children under 18 or an Adult Dependent Relative, you should refuse their applications on the grounds that the applicant or applicants do not meet the care / dependency requirement in the rules. If there is, however, another adult who is responsible for the care of the children or the Adult Dependent Relative (for instance, a spouse, or partner, or the other parent of the children) who is also making an application, or already has permission on the route, you should consider the care requirement met as long as you are satisfied that the individual is responsible for the dependants' care.

Additionally, if an adult child of a BN(O) status holder passes away during the application process, and their partner, children under 18 or Adult Dependent Relative subsequently make an application under the BN(O) route, their applications may be considered as if the deceased applicant were still alive. See the section 'applying together' below for more information.

If a family member makes a subsequent application for permission to stay, but their main applicant has passed away since the initial grant, you should still consider whether their application meets the requirements of the rules. You may consult your senior caseworker, who may refer to the BN(O) Route Policy team, for further advice.

Dependent partner of an adult child of a BN(O) status holder

The dependent partner of an adult child of a BN(O) status holder applying on the BN(O) Adult Child route must:

- meet the relationship requirement
- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying for entry clearance
- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying in country

- meet the financial requirements
- be ordinarily resident in Hong Kong, the UK, the Bailiwick of Jersey, the Bailiwick of Guernsey, or the Isle of Man

Assessing the relationship

The dependent partner must meet the relationship requirement.

If they are applying for permission to stay and already have permission as a dependent partner on the BN(O) Adult Child route on the date of application, they will meet the relationship requirement.

Otherwise, they must demonstrate the relationship between the applicant and the adult child is genuine and subsisting.

A BN(O) adult child's spouse or civil partner should enclose a digital copy of their marriage or civil partnership certificate along with their application.

If the partner is not the spouse or civil partner of the BN(O) adult child, they must show that:

- they have been in a relationship similar to marriage or civil partnership for at least 2 years before applying
- any previous relationships of the BN(O) adult child or the adult child's partner have permanently broken down
- they are not so closely related that they would not be allowed to marry in the UK

See the Relationship with a partner guidance for further information.

Dependent child of the adult child of a BN(O) status holder

The adult child's child must be the child of an applicant granted permission as a BN(O) adult child or their partner.

Both parents of the dependent child of a BN(O) adult child must have permission to be in the UK (other than as a visitor) or be applying at the same time as the dependent child. For example, this requirement would be satisfied where one parent is in the UK under the BN(O) route and the other is applying at the same time as the dependent child.

The requirement to have permission does not apply if the parent is a British citizen, or a person who has a right to enter or stay in the UK without restriction (although such persons are required to be ordinarily resident in the UK, or to become so). The following exemptions apply:

- the parent who is a BN(O) adult child or the partner of a BN(O) adult child is the only living parent
- the parent who is a BN(O) adult child or the partner of a BN(O) adult child has sole responsibility for bringing up the child

- there are serious and compelling reasons to grant the child entry clearance or permission to stay with the parent who has permission on the BN(O) Adult Child route

The child of a BN(O) adult child must:

- meet the relationship requirement
- be under the age of 18 at the date of application
- meet the care requirement for a dependent child in Appendix Children
- intend to live with a parent who has permission on the BN(O) Adult Child route during their stay in the UK (unless they can demonstrate a valid reason why not)
- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying for entry clearance
- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying in country
- meet the financial requirements
- be ordinarily resident in Hong Kong, the UK, the Bailiwick of Jersey, the Bailiwick of Guernsey, or the Isle of Man

If a dependent child is born in the UK to a BN(O) adult child and / or their partner, who already have permission on the route, the BN(O) adult child and / or their partner should apply for permission for the child and provide a full UK birth certificate showing the names of the child's parents.

Assessing the relationship

The adult child or their partner must show evidence that they are the parent, adoptive parent or guardian of the child, such as:

- a full birth certificate
- an adoption certificate
- a court order, such as a special guardianship order

Adult Dependent Relative of the adult child of a BN(O) Status holder

An Adult Dependent Relative is a person aged 18 or over at the date of the application who is the:

- parent aged 18
- grandparent
- brother or sister
- son or daughter

of an adult child of a BN(O) status holder who is applying on the BN(O) Adult Child route.

Assessing high dependency

Assessing high dependency is guided by, but not limited to, the following factors:

- their age, illness, or disability requires long-term personal care to perform everyday tasks
- the applicant is unable to access care in Hong Kong, even with the practical and financial support of the adult child of a BN(O) status holder or the partner of the adult child of a BN(O) status holder

You can request further information to establish the level of their dependency on the adult child of a BN(O) status holder or their partner / spouse, such as evidence of medical conditions and how care is provided.

See the guidance on adult dependent relatives for further information.

Applying together

Under the BN(O) Adult Child route, our expectation is that the adult child of a BN(O) status holder and their relevant family members will usually apply together, although they may choose to travel to the UK separately. See: Travelling to the UK separately. In practice, this means that the main applicant who is the adult child of a BN(O) status holder should apply first and receive their Unique Applicant Number (UAN) or Global Web Form (GWF) reference. Any dependants applying will need to quote this UAN or GWF in their applications.

However, all dependants of an adult child of a BN(O) status holder can apply to join the main applicant at a later date. When applying for the first time, the main applicant must have either made a valid application for entry clearance or permission to stay that has not been decided; or have entry clearance or permission as a BN(O) adult child.

The partner and dependent child of an adult child of a BN(O) status holder who passed away during the application process are also not required to have applied at the same time as the main applicant.

Adult child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder

Applicants applying through the BN(O) Adult Child route who are the adult child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder cannot apply to the BN(O) route independently and need to apply together with the BN(O) status holder who is the main applicant.

The adult child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder can apply to the BN(O) Adult Child route where they are the child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder who is aged 18 or over and was born on or after 1 July 1979. The adult child must:

- be the child of a BN(O) status holder's partner
- normally live with the BN(O) status holder
- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying for entry clearance
- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying in country
- meet the financial requirements be ordinarily resident in Hong Kong, the UK, the Bailiwick of Jersey, the Bailiwick of Guernsey, or the Isle of Man

Assessing the relationship

Where the adult child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder does not have permission on the Hong Kong BN(O) route, they must show evidence that they are the child or adoptive child of the partner of the BN(O) status holder, such as:

- a full birth certificate
- an adoption certificate
- a court order, such as a special guardianship order

Dependent partner of an adult child of a BN(O) status holder's partner

The dependent partner of an adult child of a BN(O) status holder's partner must:

- meet the relationship requirement
- normally live with the BN(O) adult child (and therefore, by extension, the BN(O) status holder)
- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying for entry clearance
- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying in country
- meet the financial requirements
- be ordinarily resident in Hong Kong, the UK, the Bailiwick of Jersey, the Bailiwick of Guernsey, or the Isle of Man

Assessing the relationship

The dependent partner must meet the relationship requirement. If they are applying for permission to stay and have permission as a dependent partner on the BN(O) Adult Child route on the date of application, they will meet the relationship requirement.

Otherwise, they must demonstrate they meet the following:

- the relationship between the applicant and the adult child is genuine and subsisting
- the partner and BN(O) adult child have applied together, along with the main applicant who is a BN(O) status holder

The partner should enclose a digital copy of their marriage or civil partnership certificate along with their application.

If the partner is not the spouse or civil partner of the adult child, they must show that:

- they have been in a relationship similar to marriage or civil partnership for at least 2 years before applying
- any previous relationships of the adult child of the BN(O) status holder's partner or their partner have permanently broken down

- they are not so closely related that they would not be allowed to marry in the UK

See the Relationship with a partner guidance for further information.

Dependent child of an adult child of a BN(O) status holder's partner

The child must be the child of an applicant who is at the same time being granted permission as the adult child of a BN(O) status holder's partner, or as the adult child's partner, on the BN(O) Adult Child route.

Both parents of the dependent child must have permission to be in the UK (other than as a visitor) or be applying at the same time as the dependent child. For example, this requirement would be satisfied where one parent is in the UK under the BN(O) route and the other is applying at the same time as the dependent child.

The requirement to have permission does not apply if the parent is a British citizen, or a person who has a right to enter or stay in the UK without restriction (although such persons are required to be ordinarily resident in the UK, or to become so). The following exemptions apply:

- the parent who is the adult child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder or their partner is the only living parent
- the parent who is the adult child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder or their partner has sole responsibility for bringing up the child
- there are serious and compelling reasons to grant the child entry clearance or permission to stay with the parent who has permission on the BN(O) Adult Child route

The child of the adult child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder must:

- meet the relationship requirement
- be under the age of 18 at the date of application
- meet the care requirement for a dependent child in Appendix Children
- normally live with the BN(O) adult child (and, by extension, the BN(O) status holder)
- intend to live with a parent who has permission on the BN(O) Adult Child route during their stay in the UK
- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying for entry clearance
- hold a valid TB test certificate when applying in country
- meet the financial requirements
- be ordinarily resident in Hong Kong, the UK, the Bailiwick of Jersey, the Bailiwick of Guernsey, or the Isle of Man

If a dependent child is born in the UK to a BN(O) adult child and / or their partner, who already have permission on the route, the BN(O) adult child and / or their partner should apply for permission for the child and provide a full UK birth certificate showing the names of the child's parents.

Assessing the relationship

The adult child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder, or their partner, must show evidence that they are the parent, adoptive parent or guardian of the child, such as:

- a full birth certificate
- an adoption certificate
- a court order, such as a special guardianship order

Applying together

The adult child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder, their dependent partner and children under-18 must apply for permission at the same time as the BN(O) status holder. They must pay their application fee within 48 hours of the BN(O) status holder submitting their application. Therefore, if a BN(O) status holder is granted entry clearance or permission to stay and an adult child of the partner of a BN(O) status holder makes an application at a later date, you must refuse the application.

Children born in the UK

The parents of a child born in the UK, who have permission on the BN(O) route, should register the birth and apply for permission for the child. You should grant these children permission on the route in line with that of the BN(O) status holder or BN(O) adult child (as applicable). When considering the application of such a child, you should also confirm whether one of the child's parents is a British citizen or settled and therefore whether the child themselves is a British citizen and so is ineligible for permission on the BN(O) route.

Travelling to the UK separately

Once they have been granted permission, applicants may choose to travel to the UK separately. Applicants must travel to the UK before their permission (either 30 months or 5 years) expires. Children under 18 must travel with one or both parents, unless they are joining their parents who are already in the UK.

Additionally, for a grant of settlement on the Hong Kong BN(O) route, a BN(O) Household Child or the child of a BN(O) adult child must be granted at the same time as at least one of their parents, unless both parents are settled or a British citizen.

Grant or refuse entry clearance

This section tells you about how to grant or refuse entry clearance on the Hong Kong British National (Overseas) (BN(O)) route.

Grant entry clearance

If the applicant meets all of the suitability and eligibility requirements of Appendix Hong Kong British National (Overseas), you must grant entry clearance. Permission should begin on the date you grant the application.

Official - sensitive: start of section

The information on this page has been removed as it is restricted for internal Home Office use.

Official - sensitive: end of section

Evidence of entry clearance

Successful entry clearance applicants who use either the Immigration: ID Check app or attend a visa application centre are issued with an eVisa.

Refuse entry clearance

You must refuse the application if you are not satisfied the applicant has met all the suitability and eligibility requirements.

Consult the guidance on the Hong Kong British National (Overseas) (BN(O)) route: refusal wordings for more information about refusing an application on the Hong Kong BN(O) route.

If you require further information, you must discuss the case with your entry clearance manager who may refer to the BN(O) Route Policy team for further advice.

Family members

A family member cannot be granted entry clearance if the BN(O) status holder or adult child of a BN(O) status holder's application is refused. However, should the main applicant be granted, then you should grant any eligible family member as follows:

- partners and adult dependent relatives of a BN(O) status holder or a BN(O) adult child should be granted the full length of permission they have applied for which means their expiry date may differ from the main applicant's if the main applicant obtained their permission before them
- where a child or grandchild apply as a dependant of one parent / grandparent, they should be granted permission which ends on the same date as that main applicant - if the child / grandchild is applying as the dependant of both parents, they will be granted permission that ends on the same date as those parents, or, if different, the same date as the parent whose permission ends last

A BN(O) status holder or adult child of a BN(O) status holder's application may meet the suitability and eligibility requirements but one or more of their family members' applications may not. In these cases, you must grant entry clearance for the applicants that meet the suitability and eligibility criteria and refuse those family members who do not.

Crown Dependencies

There is no legal provision to collect biometrics from applicants seeking to travel directly (not transiting the UK) to the Channel Islands. Biometrics must be enrolled at a visa application centre or UKVCAS service point if an applicant intends to transit the UK on the way to the Channel Islands. They cannot use the UK Immigration: ID Check smartphone app. However, applicants wishing to reside in the Isle of Man must enrol their biometrics at a visa application centre or UKVCAS service point regardless of whether they intend to travel directly to the Isle of Man or transit the UK. They cannot use the UK Immigration: ID Check smartphone app.

Applications to the BN(O) route of a Crown Dependency (CD) must be referred to the appropriate island for authority to issue or refuse by email using the Channel Islands and Isle of Man referral form. You must also include a recommendation in your referral. Send only a copy of the visa application form (VAF) with the referral form; the island will request supporting documentation if required.

For further information see: Common Travel Area guidance.

Right to administrative review: entry clearance applications

If an application for entry clearance is refused, the applicant cannot appeal against the refusal. However, if they think the Home Office has made an error in considering their application, they can apply for an administrative review.

Grant or refuse permission to stay

This section tells you when to grant or refuse permission to stay on the Hong Kong British National (Overseas) (BN(O)) route.

Grant permission to stay

If the applicant meets all of the suitability and eligibility requirements, you must grant permission to stay.

Granting a second 30-month permission to stay on the BN(O) route

Where an applicant was previously granted permission to stay on the BN(O) route and they are applying for a further 30-months, you must manually add any remaining length of permission from their previous visa, up to a maximum of 28 days, onto their extension permission on Atlas. This will ensure the applicant can meet the 5 years continuous residence requirement at the end of their second permission providing they apply for settlement no more than 28 days before their second visa expires.

Those applying for permission to stay when in receipt of public funds

Once an applicant is granted on the BN(O) route, they can apply for a change of conditions (CoC) to lift their no recourse to public funds restriction if they are destitute or at risk of becoming destitute, there are particularly compelling reasons relating to the welfare of their child on account of their very low income, or there are exceptional circumstances relating to their financial circumstances.

Where an applicant is applying for permission to stay and they are in receipt of public funds having previously been granted a CoC on the BN(O) route, you must conduct an assessment to confirm that they require continued access to public funds. For detailed guidance on assessing when to grant access to public funds see: Permitting access to public funds.

Should you decide that the applicant requires continued access to public funds, then you should grant them permission to stay with recourse to public funds.

Evidence of permission to stay

Successful applicants for permission to stay are given an eVisa.

Refuse permission to stay

You must refuse the application if you are not satisfied the applicant has met all the suitability requirements of Appendix Hong Kong British National \(Overseas\), or if any of the grounds for refusal in Part Suitability apply.

Consult the guidance on example refusal wordings for applications on the Hong Kong BN(O) route for more information about refusing an application on the Hong Kong BN(O) route.

Where an application for permission to stay does not meet the eligibility requirements you must consider whether the following exceptions apply.

Family members

A family member cannot be granted permission to stay if the BN(O) status holder or adult child of a BN(O) status holder's application is refused. However, should the main applicant be granted, then you should grant any eligible family member as follows:

- partners and adult dependent relatives of a BN(O) status holder or a BN(O) adult child should be granted the full length of permission they have applied for which means their expiry date may differ from the main applicant's if the main applicant obtained their permission before them
- where a child or grandchild apply as a dependant of one parent / grandparent, they should be granted permission which ends on the same date as that main applicant - if the child / grandchild is applying as the dependant of both parents, they will be granted permission that ends on the same date as those parents, or, if different, the same date as the parent whose permission ends last

A BN(O) status holder or adult child of a BN(O) status holder's application may meet the suitability and eligibility requirements but one or more of their family members' applications may not. In these cases, you must grant permission to stay for the applicants that meet the suitability and eligibility criteria and refuse those family members who do not.

Exceptions: leave outside the rules following a refusal

If an applicant cannot meet the eligibility requirements for permission to stay because, either:

- they cannot demonstrate they meet the financial requirement
- they are not ordinarily resident in Hong Kong, the UK, Jersey, Guernsey or the Isle of Man you must inform the applicant of the reasons why their application does not meet the eligibility requirements under Appendix Hong Kong British National (Overseas) using the relevant decision template. However, you have the discretion to grant the applicant 12 months' leave outside the rules (LOTR) to allow them further time to meet the eligibility requirements for a further application for the Hong Kong BN(O) route. Family members should only be granted LOTR where the BN(O) status holder or the adult child of a BN(O) status holder is also being granted permission.

This grant of LOTR does not apply if the applicant has not met all the suitability requirements of the Hong Kong British National (Overseas) route.

This grant of LOTR gives applicants the right to work and study in the UK, but no recourse to public funds. The conditions of their stay are set out in the relevant decision template.

Where you decide to apply discretion, you should grant BN(O) status holders or the adult child of a BN(O) status holder and their family members refused under the Hong Kong BN(O) route LOTR via the same application, meaning they do not have to pay again for a separate in country LOTR application. Hong Kong BN(O) applicants will have paid either 30 months or 5 years of the Immigration Health Surcharge (IHS) with their application, but would only receive 12 months' permission, so you must refund the difference in IHS. They will not receive a refund of the original application fee paid.

If you are considering granting LOTR you must discuss the case with your senior caseworker who may refer to the BN(O) Route Policy team for further advice.

Right to administrative review

If an application for permission to stay is refused, there is no right of appeal against the refusal. However, if the applicant thinks the Home Office has made an error in considering their application, they can apply for an administrative review.

Conditions of entry clearance or stay

This page tells you about the conditions of stay those applying to the Hong Kong British National (Overseas) (BN(O)) route must comply with if they are granted entry clearance or permission to stay. This includes those granted on the BN(O) Status Holder route and the BN(O) Adult Child route, including their dependants.

No access to public funds

Applicants granted under the Hong Kong BN(O) route are granted permission on the condition that they cannot access public funds and can maintain themselves. This term is defined in paragraph 6 of the Immigration Rules and includes most state benefits and housing or homelessness assistance.

However, those who have been granted permission on the Hong Kong BN(O) route who are destitute or are at imminent risk of falling into destitution can apply to change their conditions to lift the No Recourse to Public Funds condition. Where an applicant has lifted their no recourse to public funds condition and they apply for extension, they can be granted without a no recourse to public funds condition providing they remain eligible for it.

Work

Applicants granted under the Hong Kong BN(O) route can take any kind of employment or self-employment. The work can be full-time or part-time, paid or unpaid, does not have to be with a licensed Tier 2 or Tier 5 sponsor, and they do not need any additional permission or endorsement from the Home Office to work once they have been granted permission. They cannot, however, be employed as a professional sportsperson or sports coach.

Study

Applicants granted under the Hong Kong BN(O) route are allowed to study in the UK. There is no limit on the number of hours they can study or level of course they undertake. Study may be undertaken anywhere the applicant chooses and does not have to be with a licensed Tier 4 sponsor.

ATAS condition

If they intend to study a discipline listed in Appendix ATAS to the Immigration Rules and are 18 years of age or over, they must obtain an Academic Technology Approval Scheme \(ATAS\) clearance certificate from the Counter-Proliferation Department of the Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office in relation to this course before beginning their study, unless an exemption applies.

Settlement

This section tells you how to assess an application for settlement (also known as indefinite leave to enter or remain) on the Hong Kong British National (Overseas) (BN(O)) route.

Refer to the validity and suitability sections earlier in this document for more information on how to assess these requirements.

The guidance below explains how to assess the eligibility requirements for settlement, which are set out at paragraphs HK 57.1 to HK 63.1 in Appendix Hong Kong British National (Overseas).

Qualifying period

The applicant must have spent a continuous period of 5 years in the UK, with permission on a route to settlement, which includes, but is not limited to, any combination of the following routes:

- Skilled Worker
- Tier 2 (General)
- Global Talent
- Innovator
- T2 Minister of Religion / Tier 2 (Minister of Religion)
- T2 Sportsperson / Tier 2 (Sportsperson)
- Representative of an Overseas Business
- Tier 1 (Exceptional Talent)
- Tier 1 (Entrepreneur)
- Tier 1 (Investor)
- Tier 1 (General)
- Global Talent visa (or a Tier 1 Exceptional Talent visa)
- UK Ancestry visa
- Appendix FM routes:
 - Family life with a partner
 - Bereaved partner
 - Victim of domestic abuse
 - Family life as a parent of a child in the UK
 - Adult dependent relative
 - Private life

The most recent permission held by the applicant must have been on the Hong Kong BN(O) route.

If the applicant has had permission on a route not listed here, you should check the Immigration Rules to see if it is a route that leads to settlement. For example, the Student route (previously known as Tier 4) and Youth Mobility Scheme are not routes to settlement.

Any periods of leave outside the rules (LOTR), including the BN(O) LOTR at the border concession which operated from 15 July 2020 to 19 July 2021, do not count towards the qualifying period.

Absences from the UK must be considered in line with Appendix Continuous Residence. See the continuous residence guidance for further details.

Knowledge of life in the UK

Unless an exemption applies, the applicant must meet the Knowledge of Life in the UK requirement as set out in Appendix KOL UK.

English language requirement

Unless an exemption applies, the applicant must demonstrate sufficient knowledge of the English language on the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages in speaking and listening to at least level B1. They must show that they meet the English Language requirement as specified in Appendix English Language.

Relationship requirement for applicants aged 18 or over who are not adult dependent relatives

Where an applicant is aged 18 or over on the date of application, and their most recent permission was not as an Adult Dependent Relative on the Hong Kong BN(O) route, the applicant does not need to meet a relationship requirement in order to qualify for settlement.

The applicant must have last been granted permission on the Hong Kong BN(O) route. The applicant does not need to apply for settlement at the same time as the BN(O) status holder or the BN(O) adult child; they may apply regardless of whether the BN(O) status holder or the BN(O) adult child has applied for settlement. Partners will not need to demonstrate that their relationship with the BN(O) status holder or the BN(O) adult child is subsisting on the date of application.

Applicants who are aged under 18 on the date of application or who are adult dependent relatives must meet the relationship requirements set out below.

Relationship and care requirements for a dependent child on the Hong Kong BN(O) route

This section tells you about the relationship and care requirements for a dependent child on both the BN(O) Status Holder route and the BN(O) Adult Child route. These must be met where the applicant is under the age of 18 on the date of application for settlement.

The applicant must have last been granted permission as a dependent child on the BN(O) Status Holder route or the BN(O) Adult Child route. At least one parent of the applicant must be being granted settlement on the Hong Kong BN(O) route at the same time as their child or grandchild, or be settled, or a British citizen. Their other parent must be being granted settlement at the same time, be a British citizen, or be settled, unless one of the following exceptions apply:

- one parent is deceased
- one parent has sole responsibility for the child's upbringing
- there are serious and compelling reasons to grant the child settlement

Serious and compelling reasons must be assessed on a case-by-case basis. You must consult your senior caseworker if you have doubts about granting. They may refer you to the BN(O) Route Policy team for further guidance.

There must be suitable arrangements for the child's care and accommodation in the UK, which must comply with relevant UK legislation and regulations.

A child who has turned 18 since they successfully applied for entry clearance or permission to stay should apply as a BN(O) adult child at settlement. As with other adult children, they will not need to demonstrate that they continue to meet a relationship requirement.

Relationship requirement for a BN(O) Adult Dependent Relative

The applicant's last grant of permission must have been as an Adult Dependent Relative on the Hong Kong BN(O) route. The applicant must be the parent, grandparent, brother, sister, son or daughter of a person who is being granted settlement on the Hong Kong BN(O) route; who has already been granted settlement on the Hong Kong BN(O) route; or who is a British citizen.

Grant or refuse settlement

This section tells you when to grant or refuse settlement on the Hong Kong British National (Overseas) (BN(O)) route.

Grant settlement

If the applicant meets all of the suitability and eligibility requirements, you must grant settlement.

Grant permission to stay (where settlement requirements are not met)

If an applicant does not meet the requirements for settlement, they may still meet all the suitability and eligibility requirements to be granted permission to stay on the Hong Kong BN(O) route. Where you consider it likely that the applicant would meet these requirements you must vary their application from an application for settlement under the Hong Kong BN(O) route to one to permission to stay.

When you do this, you must write to the applicant using template Immigration Health Surcharge (IHS) Request Vary Settlement to Permission and notify them:

- they do not meet the requirements for settlement – you must not refuse the application at this point as if you do it may end any 3C leave the applicant has and prevent them from qualifying for settlement in future
- why they do not meet the requirements for settlement – explain which requirements they do not meet and why as you would in a refusal letter
- you have varied their application
- they must pay the Immigration Health Surcharge (IHS) within 14 days to be granted permission to stay
- if they do not pay the IHS their application for permission to stay will be rejected
- the application fee is retained regardless and explain they will not receive a refund

You must check the IHS portal at the end of the 14 day period (starting from the date the notification is sent) to see if the IHS has been paid.

If the IHS has been paid and they meet all eligibility and suitability requirements, you should grant permission to stay for 30 months with the following conditions:

- no access to public funds
- work (including self-employment and voluntary work) permitted except for employment as a professional sportsperson (including as a sports coach)
- study is permitted, subject to the ATAS condition in Appendix ATAS

If the IHS has not been paid, you should reject the application and record this on the caseworking system. In all cases the fee the applicant paid for their settlement application will be retained.

You will need to send the appropriate notification to the applicant using the relevant template (Validity rejection no write out).

If, before the 14 day period is over, the applicant contacts you to notify you that they believe there has been an error in the decision, you should consider any further information they provide only where this is relevant to the reason they did not meet the settlement requirement.

For example, where an applicant did not meet the qualifying period requirement because they were absent for more than 180 days in a 12 month period, and their absences were not for one of the reasons for permitted absences in Appendix Continuous Residence – the applicant may contact you with evidence that the absences over the 180 days were for a permitted reason.

In such a case you may grant settlement if all eligibility and suitability requirements are met.

If the applicant provides information that is not relevant to the reasons their application was refused, you do not need to consider this and should follow existing guidance. You should, however, notify the applicant that you have not considered this information and why.

Refuse settlement

If the applicant does not meet the requirements for settlement or permission to stay Appendix Hong Kong British National \(Overseas\), or if any of the grounds for refusal in Part Suitability apply you must refuse the application.

Consult the guidance on example refusal wording for applications on the Hong Kong BN(O) route for more information about refusing an application on the Hong Kong BN(O) route.

Where an application for settlement does not meet the eligibility requirements you must consider whether any exceptions apply.

Right to administrative review

If an application for settlement is refused there is no right of appeal against that decision. However, if they think the Home Office has made an error in considering their application, they can apply for an administrative review.
