

COMMITTEE ON CARCINOGENICITY OF CHEMICALS IN FOOD, CONSUMER PRODUCTS AND THE ENVIRONMENT

EFSA Consultation on draft Scoping paper on the revision of the opinion on the Margin of Exposure for chemicals which are both genotoxic and carcinogenic

1. EFSA has opened a consultation on the draft scoping paper attached at Annex A to revise its 2005 opinion on using the margin of exposure for chemicals which are genotoxic and carcinogenic.
2. The consultation is open until 6th September and the COC is invited to consider whether it wishes to respond to the consultation, and whether there are any specific comments to submit. Comments can also be provided to the Secretariat after the meeting.

Questions for the Committee

3. Members are invited to consider the draft scoping document and in particular:
 - i. Do Members consider that the COC should respond to the EFSA consultation?
 - ii. Do Members have any specific comments to make on the draft scoping document?
