Q068 - QDataLink: Whether they agree to data linkage to other sources [SINGLE CODED]

Thank you for taking part in this [CATI: interview / WEB: survey].

Would it be possible for DBT to link your responses to data about your business held by the following government departments?

- Department for Business and Trade (DBT)
- Office for National Statistics (ONS)
- His Majesty's Revenue and Customs (HMRC)

By linking this data, DBT can reduce the burden of their surveys on your business and can improve the evidence that they use.

Consent will remain indefinite but if you wish to withdraw consent at any point, you can contact the research team at Ipsos. Any data linked up to that point will remain but no future linking will take place. Data will only be used to inform DBT operations – we will never release information that identifies any individual business publicly – and DBT will keep your survey responses strictly confidential. Do you give your consent for Ipsos to do this?

CATI: IF NECESSARY / WEB: These data sources include:

- DBT records hold information on which services provided by DBT you have accessed and when. This data allows us to see a complete picture of how you use exporting services offered by DBT without needing to survey you on all services you have used.
- The Business Structures Database contains information businesses record through VAT and PAYE (Pay As You Earn). This is a more limited version of the Inter-Departmental Business Register (IDBR), held by the ONS.
- HMRC hold data on export outcomes across all UK businesses.

CATI: IF NECESSARY / WEB: We learn a lot about your experiences from the questions we ask in the study, but adding extra information from administrative records helps us to build a more complete picture of other ways which the service you have used has helped your business.

1. Yes
2. No

QRISrecontact:

DBT may want to contact you some time before April 2026 about further research based on the answers you have given today. Would you be happy for Ipsos to pass on your answers to this survey linked to your contact details to DBT?

2. No
