Mr S Sengar

v

Respondent:
Ace Software Solutions Limited

Before: Employment Judge Fredericks-Bowyer

On the papers at the London (South) Employment Tribunal

JUDGMENT

1. The respondent confirms in its ET3 that it does not defend the claim.
2. The respondent has made an on-going series of unlawful deductions from the claimant's wages and it is ordered to pay the claimant the 2.5 months' wages that he claims he is owed.
3. The respondent should pay the claimant the sum of £25,312.50, with the claimant receiving a net sum once the usual pay roll tax and deductions have been paid on that figure.
4. The whole sum is due under this judgment in 14 days, but the parties may agree a different date by which payment is made without undermining the terms of this judgment.
