If you need braille, British Sign Language, a hearing loop, translations, large print, Easy Read, audio or something else, please contact us on 0800 169 0283.

If you use Relay UK dial 18001 followed by our telephone number.

If you live in Wales and want this form in Welsh call 0800 169 0296.

Before you fill in this form

You must read the notes that come with this form. They give you important information you need to be able to make a claim.

The notes tell you:

1. how to work out what date you can claim Maternity Allowance from
2. how your choice of date to claim from can affect your payments
3. how to work out other dates you will need to know
4. how claiming Maternity Allowance can affect Universal Credit payments
5. about the different types of National Insurance contributions we consider.

Answer all the questions as fully as possible, and send us all the documents we have asked for. This will help us decide quickly if you can get Maternity Allowance. If you have difficulty filling in this form, ask for help. You can ask a relative, friend or someone at an advice centre to help you, but you must sign the form yourself.

Fill in this form carefully. If you fill in this form using a pen, use black ink and CAPITAL LETTERS.

Important information

You must tell us about any changes in your circumstances straight away, even if you have not had a decision on your claim. It may change how much Maternity Allowance you get. See page 14 of the notes for what you need to tell us and how to contact us.

About your baby

You must send us proof of your baby's due date. This could be:

- your original MAT B1 certificate if Part A has been filled in by a doctor or midwife
- a letter from your doctor or midwife on headed paper.

If your baby has already been born, you also need to provide proof the birth. This could be:

- your original MAT B1 certificate if Part B has been filled in by a doctor or midwife
- the system number from the birth certificate if your baby was born in the United Kingdom (UK) - you can find this in the bottom left hand corner of the certificate
- the original birth certificate if your baby was born outside of the UK - this will be returned to you
- a letter from your doctor or midwife on headed paper - this can be the same letter as the one providing the due date.

If you are sending us a MAT B1, this must be the original and not a copy. You must not alter the MAT B1. Only a doctor or midwife can fill them in. If you change or add any information, it may delay your claim.

The United Kingdom is England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.

12 What is your baby's due date?

If your baby has already been born, please tell us what date your baby was originally due.

If your baby has not yet been born please go to About your Test Period on page 4.

13 If your baby has already been born, tell us the date of birth

If your baby died or was stillborn, please see page 4 of the notes.

14 What is your baby's name?

15 Was your baby born in the United Kingdom (UK)?

No

If your baby was born outside the UK, you must send us the original birth certificate. This must be registered in the country your baby was born. We will send this back to you.

Yes

16 If your baby's birth was registered in the UK, what is the system number for the baby's details you gave at question 14?

The system number can be found on the bottom left hand corner of the birth certificate. If you can provide this, you do not have to send us the birth certificate.

About your Test Period

See page 7 of the notes.

You need to work out your Test Period dates to be able to answer the next few sections.

Use the Test Period calculator online or the Test Period table that comes with this form to work out the dates we need.

We recommend using the online calculator as it will work out the correct dates for you. To use the online calculator, use the QR code on page 3 of the notes included with this form or go to <https://secure.dwp.gov.uk/check-your-maternity-allowance-dates>

17 What is the week that includes the date you expect to have your baby?

Use the calculator or if using the Test Period table, look across the table to column 1 to find these dates.

From

To

18 What is the first day of your Test Period?

Use the calculator or if using the Test Period table, look across the table to column 2 to find this date.

19 What is the last day of your Test Period?

Use the calculator or if using the Test Period table, look across the table to column 3 to find this date.

About your work

20 What date does the 15th week before the week your baby is due start on?

Use the online Test Period calculator or if using the Test Period table go to the week in column 1 that includes the date you expect to have your baby, then read across to column 4 to find this date.

21 Did you work for an employer during this 15th week?

See pages 8 to 13 of the notes.

No Go to question 24

Yes

22 Are you getting or going to get Statutory Maternity Pay (SMP)?

No

Tell us why not.

If you cannot get SMP, each of the employers you worked for during this 15th week must give you an SMP1 form to send to us.

Yes You cannot get Maternity Allowance. You do not need to send us this form. See page 6 of the notes.

23 Have you given your employer a copy of your MAT B1 or other acceptable medical evidence of pregnancy?

No

Tell us why not. If you need to provide more detail, use the space at question 134.

Yes

What date did you do this?

You must send your employer a copy of the MAT B1 or other medical evidence of your baby's due date no later than 21 days from when you start your maternity leave. If you do not, there will be a delay with your Maternity Allowance claim.

24 Are you a company director?

No

Yes You must send us an SMP1 form and complete the questions in the next section, About employment and earnings in your Test Period.

You must send us an SMP1 from your employer if you were employed or a company director up to and including the 15th week before the week the baby is due. If you are no longer employed by them, you must still send us an SMP1 from your employer. If you do not, your claim will be delayed.

About employment and earnings in your Test Period

Tell us about ALL your employment in your Test Period

If you do not tell us about ALL your employment your claim will be delayed. Use the space at question 134 to give us any other information. For example if you:

- have been both self-employed and employed
- had more than 3 employers, or
- still have a contract with your employer during the Test Period.

See page 8 of the notes.

25 During your Test Period, are you or have you been employed?

If your name has changed and official records or Government Gateway have not been updated

Documentation of your change of name, such as a marriage certificate.

Declaration

By signing this declaration, you agree:

- the information you have given is complete and correct
- to tell the Department for Work and Pensions (DWP) straight away if your circumstances change, such as:
 - your address
 - bank details
 - marital status, or
 - anything else
- that if you have made a claim in advance of starting your maternity leave or you have your baby and your circumstances change, you will let us know
- that if you knowingly give information that is incorrect or incomplete, your benefit may be stopped and you may be liable to prosecution or other action
- to pay back any Maternity Allowance if you are paid too much

This is my claim for Maternity Allowance.

Do not sign and date this form earlier than the 14th week before the week your baby is due.
