Website: <https://www.gov.uk/government/organisations/northern-ireland-office>

Correspondence Email Address: correspondence@nio.gov.uk

Responsibilities

The Northern Ireland Office is the UK Government's centre of expertise on Northern Ireland and represents the interests of Northern Ireland in government.

The Northern Ireland Office (NIO) strategic vision is to deliver a stable, prosperous and vibrant Northern Ireland.

The UK Government (UKG) is clear on its priorities for the NIO, which are:

1. working with the Northern Ireland Executive to transform public services and champion investment opportunity.
2. implementing the Windsor Framework and protecting the UK internal market, helping Northern Ireland to stabilise.
3. addressing the legacy of the past in Northern Ireland by repealing and replacing the Legacy Act, including by working on the UKG's response to relevant judgments in a way that commands the support of the people of Northern Ireland and supports the journey towards reconciliation.

These priorities sit alongside the Secretary of State's statutory responsibilities, including on National Security. They support the UKG's missions and foundations with a focus on economic growth, safer streets and health as well as National Security which is one of the underpinning foundations. They also complement the Department's work to build effective intergovernmental relations and enhance reconciliation.
