You'll find their address for returning your form and contact details if you need help.

Voting by proxy

Proxy voting means that if you cannot vote in person, you can have someone you trust (your proxy) vote on your behalf. To vote by proxy, you must be registered to vote.

This form applies only in Scotland. You can use it to apply to vote by proxy if you cannot vote in person due to your employment or self-employment, or your spouse's or civil partner's employment or self-employment.

You must confirm with your proxy that they are eligible to vote on your behalf. They must be registered to vote and eligible to vote in the type of election taking place.

There are also rules about how many people someone can be a proxy for and who they can be a proxy for.

For Scottish Parliament and council elections:
a person can be a proxy for any number of close relatives and up to 2 people who are not close relatives at an election. Close relatives are the spouse, civil partner, parent, grandparent, brother, sister, child or grandchild of the applicant.

For UK Parliament elections:
a person can be a proxy for up to 4 people. No more than 2 of those people can be living in the UK and the rest must either be overseas or service voters. UK Parliament elections include UK Parliamentary general elections, by-elections, and recall petitions.

You can complete this form to appoint one proxy for all elections you are entitled to vote in. Your proxy must meet the requirements for all those elections. You can choose to apply for a permanent proxy vote, appoint a proxy for a particular period, or appoint a proxy for one or more elections held on the same day.

If you want to appoint different proxies for different types of election, please contact your electoral registration office.

How do I apply to vote by proxy?

- Ask someone who is willing and capable to be your proxy and vote on your behalf.
- Fill in the proxy vote application form. You must explain why you cannot vote in person due to your work. You must get someone to support your application. Please read the notes below for information on who can support your application.
- Make sure all required sections of the form are complete and provide your date of birth and signature. This information is needed to prevent fraud. If you are unable to sign this form, please contact your electoral registration office.
- If your application has missing or incorrect information, your electoral registration office will contact you. You may need to provide supporting documents and it may take longer to process your application.
- Return your form to your electoral registration office.

When applying for a new proxy vote, you must return your application form by 5pm, 6 working days before the poll.

When changing or cancelling an existing postal, proxy or postal proxy vote, you must return your application form by 5pm, 11 working days before the poll.

If you are not registered to vote, you must apply to register before applying for a proxy vote.
The deadline to register to vote is midnight, 12 working days before the poll. Register to vote online at gov.uk/register-to-vote or contact your electoral registration office to request a paper form.

Application to vote by proxy in Scotland due to employment or self-employment

Who can support my application?

Your application can be supported by:

- an employer or another authorised person at the place of work (if you or your spouse or civil partner are employed)
- a person who knows you and is not related to you (if you or your spouse or civil partner are self-employed)

Your supporter must be aged 18 or over, except where your application relates only to Scottish Parliament or Scottish council elections, when your supporter must be aged 16 or over.

Your supporter must give their details in section 9 and complete the relevant declaration.

What happens after I have returned this form?

- Your electoral registration office will confirm if your application has been accepted or rejected.
- Your proxy will be sent a proxy poll card, telling them where and when to vote on your behalf.
- You must let your proxy know how you want them to vote on your behalf, for example, which candidate, party or outcome.
- Your proxy must go to your polling station to vote on your behalf. If your proxy cannot get to the polling station, they can apply to vote on your behalf by post. They can apply to do this until 5pm, 11 working days before the poll. They can contact your electoral registration office for more details and to request a postal proxy vote application form.
- If you are able to go to the polling station on polling day, you can vote in person as long as your proxy has not already done so or has not applied to vote on your behalf by post.
