Work towards a memorial

Independent design team, Freehaus, has been developing the memorial design with the Grenfell community and the Grenfell Tower Memorial Commission. As part of the proposed design, 14 columns on the perimeter of the Tower will be kept up to the height of the fourth floor, so that they can be considered as part of the final design. There will be more opportunities for the community to speak with Freehaus before the design is finalised, and you can also contact them directly at: hello@freehausdesign.com

The scaffolding on the Tower is currently being changed so that work to carefully take down the Tower can continue with the columns left in place. The Tower will stay covered in white wrapping throughout this work.

Monitoring information on dust, vibration, and noise

The government is committed to ensuring that all work at the Grenfell Tower site is carried out to the highest standards. The safety and wellbeing of the community and people working at the site remain our priority. There are monitors at the site collecting live data on dust, vibration, and noise. The data is published every month. To see the latest reports, please click on the links below:
