Dear Secretary of State,

I am writing as a mother of an [redacted] and a [redacted] to strongly object to the use of the urgent planning process for the proposed accommodation of up to 1,250 single adult male asylum seekers at Site A, MOD Bicester.

I am deeply concerned that while the Government has had many months to consider this proposal, local residents are being given only days to respond to something of this scale and impact. That is not fair, reasonable, or safe.

As a parent, I am particularly concerned about the impact on local services, policing, and community safety, and the lack of proper time for scrutiny by residents and local authorities.

I also have a very personal fear for the safety and mental wellbeing of my daughter. I am worried that she may feel like a prisoner in her own home, while others on the site will have the freedom to move around the local area. I am deeply anxious about the level of intimidation that could be felt in a small community from the presence of 1,250 adult males, many of whom may come from cultures with very different attitudes towards women. This is a major concern for me as a mother, and I do not believe it has been properly considered or addressed.

If this proposal is genuinely necessary, it should go through the normal planning process with full transparency and proper consultation. Urgency should not be used to bypass local voices.

I therefore ask that you withdraw the urgent procedure and ensure this decision is handled through the proper planning process.

Yours sincerely,
A concerned local mother
