Dear Sirs,

[redacted] it terrifies me to think just down the road 1250 men that have not had any background checks whatsoever will be living and free to roam our streets. I remember being a young girl cycling around my neighbourhood, no phones to contact my parents, no fears just “come home when the lights go on” this will be far from a childhood my girls will be able to experience.

Due to your decision to place all these unchecked men, which as you are having to give them leaflets to explain we don’t rape, attack etc my girls will now only have the freedom to go in our own back garden. This is unfair! Totally unacceptable.
If they are to be placed here, are they going to be monitored 24/7 where they are what they are doing, limited to not leave the area? No! They will be free to roam the streets! Why?! We don’t know who they are!!!

It scares me, no, absolutely terrifies me they will be here

Our house will very likely lose value too because this is up the road. How is this fair?! Will the government pay us back (taxpayers who have been paying tax since 16 years old) the difference we will lose in our house prices when we sell as we certainly will not want to live here anymore if you choose to confirm this placement.

Would you have this round the corner from your house? From your innocent young girls? Think of your childhood…… it’s very different to what my girls will experience if you decide to put these men near to our, what my 3 year old calls “family tree”

Think of your people first not those that have come here and could have committed horrid crimes. Please

Regards
