I want to register my strong objection to the plans to house 1,250 undocumented, male, asylum seekers at the former military base near to Bicester.

The plan amounts to reckless disregard for the safety of female residents in the area.

Whilst understanding the need to accommodate asylum seekers while their applications are being processed, the government needs to find more sensible and safer solutions.

In particular, allowing undocumented young, single males to move freely in the community is dangerous and unnecessary. The accommodation should be humane, comfortable and, more of all, secure.

There have been too many instances of attacks by asylum seekers on women and girls to dismiss objections as being racist. Every incident fuels hostility towards legitimate refugees, breeds violence, and creates fear.

This plan is heavy-handed, thoughtless and tone-deaf to the valid concerns of the public.
