[redacted] Learn why this is important at [redacted]

Dear Sirs,

When the Bicester site was being operated by the British Army there would have been various ranks of Commissioned Officers and NonComs on base to ensue that the ranks complied with the strict Army rules and regulations.

Yet, the Government is planning to house 1246 single males in this unused Army Base with no mention of supervision or rules, maintenance of the site, transport links into commercial centres and medical services, or any safety and security arrangements; and clearly with little concern for young locals in the area.

So it seems to me that this plan is far from ready to be launched, and its inadequacies a total imposition on more permanent residents of the area.

Yours faithfully,
